MEN WHO HELPED MAKE PORTSMOUTH

Brief Sketches of Their Lives, Which Should Be An Inspiration to All; Opportunities In Portsmouth for the Hard-working, Conscientious Young Man Just As Good As Anywhere Else In The World

Coming to Portsmouth but eight years ago, George A. Patton represents the type of successful young man who has found this a city of opportunity. Mr. Patton was born in West Union, Ohio, July 26, 1886, studied at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and taught school for eleven years before coming to Portsmouth. For several years he was principal of the high school and later superintendent of the public schools in Manchester, O. He left the teaching profession to represent the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York as manager of the Portsmouth district, including Scioto, Lawrence and Adams counties. Eighty-one years of age in February, 1924, the company Mr. Patton represents is the oldest life insurance company in America. He is also associated with the Charles D. Seudder Insurance Company.

Mr. Patton is affiliated with the Second Presbyterian church, is a Mason, being a member of Calvary Commandery Knights Templar, a member of Yeazied Grotto, is a Scottish Rite Mason in the Cincinnati Consistory, member of the Syrian Shrine, Cincinnati; member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Elks and the Kiwanis Club, having served as a director of the last named.

Mr. Patton is married and has two children; George Jr., aged seven, and Pauline Elizabeth, aged two.

Having found Portsmouth a good city in which to do business Mr. Patton naturally feels qualified to recommend the city to other young men just starting their careers. For several years Mr. Patton has been one of the quarter million men of his company. "Though I'm proud of this record," he says, "I don't feel that such results are entirely due to the work of the individual. I believe that

Democrats Make Attack; Willis Defends Cabinet Officer

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Attorney General Daugherty today became the center of one of the bitterest senate debates in recent years.

When the resolution for an inquiry into the Department of Justice was brought up for action, Democratic senators led off against the attorney general on a personal and official basis since he entered the cabinet. Single handed, Senator Willis, of Ohio, Mr. Daugherty's home state, attempted to stem the tide of criticism while Republican party leaders looked on.

The Ohio senator conceded he had discussed the make-up of the investigating committee with the attorney general but insisted there was nothing improper in his conduct.

Charges of efforts to select a "packed jury" flew back and forth across the chamber as the debate on the make-up of the committee progressed, and the galleries were stirred to repeated demonstrations, despite reiterated warnings from the chair.

Adoption of the resolution for investigation of Daugherty is expected before tonight and the inquiry will begin next week.

Controversy at once developed over the question of appointing the investigating committee. Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, author of the resolution proposed that five senators, three Republicans and two Democrats, be elected by the senate.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, countered with a proposal for appointment of the committee in the customary manner by the senate's presiding officer.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, supported the plan for election of the special committee by the senate, declaring "It had been openly decided that efforts were contemplated to pack the committee."

He added that he had reason to be-

A MILLION IN WHISKEY VANISHES IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Eight thousand cases of premium bonded whiskey, valued at nearly $1,000,000, have vanished from the Federal Concentration Depot at the Sibley Warehouse and Storage Company here, according to a copyrighted news story in the Chicago Herald and Examiner, which adds the amount of missing liquor may run much higher.

Withdrawal of the whiskey from the government supervised warehouse, in which the accumulation of liquor was among the largest in the country, was accomplished by forged or raised permits for medicinal whiskey, the newspaper says. All withdrawal records of the company are said to have vanished.

A sweeping investigation has been ordered by Roy A. Haynes, prohibition commissioner, according to the newspaper, which states the inquiry is in charge of the special intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Department, and secret service operatives. The forged and raised permits have been circulating for months and several cases in Illinois at which distillers should bottle liquor and fill orders for medicinal whiskey sanctioned under government permits. An intricate system of checking and cross-checking was established to safeguard against fraudulent withdrawals.

The withdrawal records of the company were spirited away by two men, representing themselves to be prohibition agents, who called at the concentration depot and presented a letter purporting to come from the Internal Revenue Department directing that the records be turned over to them. According to prohibition officials the letter was a counterfeit and the signatures on it were forged.

The Sibley Warehouse and Storage Company was designated by the Federal government as one of the great depots in Illinois at which distillers should bottle liquor and fill orders for medicinal whiskey sanctioned under government permits. An intricate system of checking and cross-checking was established to safeguard against fraudulent withdrawals.

Fire, Not Name, Destroyed It

HAVANA, February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The British auxiliary schooner Wyndham, whose name, according to members of her crew, stood for "will you buy a drink if I tell you?" was destroyed by fire here after an explosion on board. The crew escaped.

The schooner for some time had been running in and out of Havana, clearing for various West Indies ports.

Tried to Hold Up Officer

CLEVELAND, O., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—One of the three youths who attempted to hold up Patrolman William Flannery today is in a hospital in a serious condition with two bullet wounds in his body. Two others who were identified by the officer were detained by other policemen who went to the scene following the shooting. According to Flannery, the youth he shot drew a revolver when he approached the patrolman, who was in citizens clothing.

Premier MacDonald Of England Outlines His Philosophy; Sees Europe In Better Frame of Mind

By FRANK H. SIMMONS.
(Copyright, 1924, by Times Publishing Company.)

LONDON, February 29.—"In the grand game of golf to press is to fool. And even in international affairs man may well bear in mind the golf adage, 'Slow back, follow through.'"

In these words the British Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, outlined to me the spirit and point of view with which he approached foreign affairs at the present critical moment in European affairs.

"When you are going to drive you do not press, you do not try to get ahead, to be tricky or to be finicky. You do not think too much. You stop up, make a long, clean, perfect stroke, the ball goes straight off down the fairway toward the green."

"Now that is my conception of foreign policy. The old method was always tricky, finicky, it always pressed, it always tepped and sidled. No, I will not say always, but usually."

"We have been saying that if you look out for the peace, the pounds will look out for themselves. Well, perhaps, I am not so sure; but I am sure that if

Democrats Hunt Man To Buck Coolidge, Certain Nominee of Republicans

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 29.—These are the dope days for the Democrats.

Wherever two or more Democrats foregather, the inevitable first question is:

"Well, what's the dope?" Meaning, always, the deep, inside political prognostication as evolved by the boys with their ears to the ground and their eyes on the presidency. Here it is.

Coolidge will be the Republican nominee. No Democrat disputes that. The G. O. P. must win or lose with the man now in the White House.

To repudiate him would be to admit a mistake in 1920 and concede failure of the present administration.

With that settled, the Democratic dogmatists then set about picking the man to unseat Coolidge. That's a more involved problem!

Underwood? Too conservative. Lacks magnetism and popular appeal. Too southern to pull necessary northern vote. Cox? Outdistanced in 1920. A good campaigner, forceful, magnetic, but handicapped by his former defeat. Little chance.

McAdoo? A favorite, irreparably lamed as a candidate because of his oil connections. Personally and politically the best fighter and most alert brain in the party, but now too vulnerable. His (Continued on Page Three)

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The best term for a prohibition law advocate is "spigot-blot," the Harvard Advocate, a monthly college publication, decided in awarding its proffered $250 prize today. The recipient was Miss Katherine Greene Welling, of New York City.

Held For Death Of Their Infant

TACOMA, WASH., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Kenneth Moss McLean, who was said in dispatches last night to be held in Portland, Me., with his wife in connection with the death of their infant child, is a son of A. R. McLean, wealthy chain grocery owner here. The child had been suffocated but the measure contained no mention of the arrests. The older McLean will leave for Maine tomorrow.

Young McLean and Miss Nettie Volk were married here about a year and a half ago.

Cow Shin Bones For Mah Jongg

GALVESTON, TEXAS, Feb. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Three car loads of selected shin bones from cows slaughtered at a Chicago packing house, were exported from Galveston yesterday on the steamship Patrick Henry for Japan where they will be re-exported to China for the making of Mah Jongg sets. The popularity of the game in the United States is said to have caused a large demand for the bones.

1 Killed, 9 Hurt In Bus-Car Crash

CINCINNATI, O., February 29.—A boy about 16 years old believed to be Victor Beasley, of Mt. Washington, Ohio, was killed and eight other persons were more or less seriously injured in a head-on collision of a Mt. Washington automobile bus and an East End street car in the eastern part of the city today. A Y. M. C. A. membership card found in the pocket of the dead boy, bore the name of Victor Beasley.

The injured are: Walter Jentzen, 16. Marvin Sharp, 23. Stella Jantzen, 18. Victoria Sharp, 16. Joseph Kipp, 10.

Florence Delaney, Mt. Washington. Luella Feldhaus, Mt. Washington. Anthony Stiegler, California, Ohio. J. E. Gramson.

The bus, being driven toward Cincinnati by Wilson Broadhaver, Mt. Washington, loaded with about 45 passengers, was following a west bound East End car, according to the statement made to the police by the chauffeur. Another truck was between them as they sped along. Broadhaver says because of this truck he could not see when the car stopped to take on passengers. He failed to slow down and momentum of the bus was so great that a collision was inevitable. Broadhaver says he swerved his heavy car to the left side of the street to avoid this collision but he failed to see an east bound East End car that was approaching and the two vehicles came together with a crash. The front of the bus crumpled up under the impact. Its passengers were thrown about in every direction. The street car was comparatively empty and its passengers were uninjured.

The youth who was killed was riding on the step in the front of the bus. His body was crushed and he died on the way to a hospital.

Deaths Zevely His Partner

Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, as attorney for the Washington Post, in the oil inquiry, denied that J. W. Zevely, counsel for Harry F. Sinclair, is his law partner, as suggested in the McLean telegram.

He added, however, that Zevely "is an old friend of mine," and had outlined to him a couple of months ago the salient facts in the oil inquiry.

Zevely asked his opinion, he said, as to whether Sinclair and Fall could be compelled to answer questions before the committee. Palmer gave it as his opinion that they could.

Formerly, said he had not seen Fall "for years" and denied he was to look after the interests of "the man at Wardman Park," John E. Major said in one of his telegrams to McLean at Palm Beach.

Says Work For McLean Entirely Proper

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 29.—(By the United Press)—Senator Willis, of Ohio, has been informed that the "Willis" mentioned in the telegram in the senate oil probe, is T. C. Willis, an officer of Munsey Trust Co., here.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 29.—(By the United Press)—A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson cabinet, denied before the senate oil committee today that he had tried to impede the oil scandal inquiry by any unofficial means.

He declared that any work he did for Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post was entirely in accord with legal ethics.

Palmer was called because his name appeared in telegrams between McLean and his employees here.

Palmer produced a telegram which he said authorized his employment by McLean.

It advised Major an employee of McLean to tell Palmer that the only thing that would connect McLean with the inquiry was the loan of $100,000 to Fall in 1921.

The telegram was given to the committee by Palmer on December 28.

Senate Seeks Income Facts

(By the Associated Press) The senate today asked that the income tax returns of a number of individuals and corporations prominently connected with the oil inquiry be thrown open to inspection by the oil committee.

Those named include Harry F. Sinclair and the oil companies with which he is connected, E. J. Doheny and E. J. Doheny, Jr., and the Doheny Oil Corporation, Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, and the Security Investment Company.

The resolution, the subject of which was introduced by Senator McClellan, Democrat, Tennessee, and adopted without debate, respectfully requests President Coolidge to exercise the authority given under the revenue law to him to turn the reports over to the committee.

Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, as attorney for the Washington Post, in the oil inquiry, denied that J. W. Zevely, counsel for Harry F. Sinclair, is his law partner, as suggested in the McLean telegram.

He added, however, that Zevely "is an old friend of mine," and had outlined to him a couple of months ago the salient facts in the oil inquiry.

HOUSE VOTES 1-4 INCOME TAX-CUT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—A one-fourth reduction in all personal income taxes payable this year was approved today by the house.

A proposal to eliminate the entire section of the revenue bill carrying this provision was defeated 181 to 115.

House Republican insurgents formally agreed today to support the Republican compromise for the Democratic income rates in the revenue bill.

The compromise provides for a flat 25 per cent reduction on the present surtax rates with the same brackets retained. It would make the maximum 37½ per cent on incomes over $20,000. Minimum rates would be 1½ per cent on incomes between $10,000 and $12,000, the first bracket of the present schedule being entirely eliminated.

The House today voted down an amendment to the revenue bill which would have restored the Mellon income tax rates which were eliminated with the adoption of the Garner Democratic schedule.

The amendment was proposed by Representative Hawley, Republican, Oregon. Organization leaders planned after its rejection to offer their compromise which would fix the surtax maximum at 37½ per cent.

Republican organization leaders were confident they would have the support of enough Republican insurgents to substitute the Longworth schedule for the Garner rates, which proposed a surtax maximum of 44 per cent on incomes exceeding $22,000. The Mellon surtax maximum was 25 per cent.

Portsmouth-Sandusky Canal Route Has Big Advantage, Engineers Show

COLUMBUS, Feb. 29.—The route for the proposed Great Lakes to Ohio River waterway will be either that between Sandusky and Portsmouth or Ashtabula and Pittsburgh, engineers who have gone over the proposed routes, declared at a meeting here today of representatives of interested cities.

The representatives heard a report from Prof. C. E. Sherman, of the Engineering Department of Ohio State University relative to the survey being made of the central route for the waterway.

To secure additional data for the route from Sandusky to Portsmouth was the object of the meeting today. Engineers said that the Cleveland-

Marietta route has practically eliminated and also the Toledo-Cincinnati route because they said shipments could be made with less expense and save more time over the central route.

Engineers pointed out that the Sandusky-Portsmouth route has advantage over the Pittsburgh-Ashtabula route in the matter of winter supply during the dry season as well as having equally as many, if not more, natural resources to draw from.

The matter of the construction of the waterway lies with the government, Prof. Sherman said.

and for one year terms, Frank E. Klefer, Roger A. Selby, James W. Bannan, G. S. Monroe and Charles D. Scudder. Hereafter five new directors will be elected each year, five of the two year members holding over. The new directors will meet in a few days to organize.

Drivers Held Blameless

After hearing details of a collision between automobiles driven by Dr. J. T. Marchie and George Leighley which occurred at the intersection of Kinney's Lane and Waller streets yesterday afternoon, Judge Sprague in Municipal court Friday dismissed a reckless driving complaint against Leighley.

The testimony adduced at the hearing indicated that the collision was merely an unavoidable accident and a matter of mistaken judgment on the part of the motorists as to their rights. Both drivers escaped unhurt but their machines were slightly damaged. Leighley recently moved to Chillicothe from this city.

Mrs. Kalb 64 Today Has Had Only 15 Birthdays; Will Give "Party" Tonight

In at least one home in Portsmouth February 29 is a signal for a gala celebration.

Mrs. Fred Kalb, 624 Eleventh street, was 64 years old today, but she is having only her 15th birthday party. You see she was cheated out of one celebration in 1900 for it was not a leap year. "We had to wait eight years for a party that time," Mrs. Kalb told a Times reporter this morning, as she hurried about making her home attractive for the day's festivities. "but when we did finally celebrate we made up for those years we had to skip. I've had a birthday party every time the 29th of February has come around, and some of the folks who will be here today came to my parties when I was just a little girl in school."

Roses and carnations and primroses grace the Kalb home today in honor of the Leap Year birthday. Two giant birthday cakes, one a gift from friends in the neighborhood, the other, a surprise planned by Mr. Kalb, were cut as part of the celebration.

From 2 o'clock until 4 this afternoon an informal tea was held, to which the following guests were invited: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kalb, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Trumbull, Mrs. Albert Lillick, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hyatt, Mrs. Caroline Hazlebeck, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gore, Mrs. James Hannan, Mrs. Louise Koegel, Mrs. R. H. Don, Mrs. O. H. Almond, Mrs. James Keever, Mrs. Louise Munyon, Mrs. Mamie Riggs, Mrs. Alice Gore, Mrs. Clifford Juhnkehart, Mrs. Mary Bloom. This evening the immediate family will gather in the Kalb home for a family birthday dinner.

Many gifts from neighbors, from old-time friends and from far distant relatives and friends poured in all day long. Among the remembrances received was a beautiful mahogany rocking chair, the gift of Mr. Fred Kalb, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kalb, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Trumbull and Mrs. Albert Lillick.

Withdraws From Realty Board

Resignation of W. W. Weidner as a member of the Portsmouth Real Estate Board, was accepted at a special meeting of the Board in the office of C. W. Bailey, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Weidner's action, it is understood, reflects disagreement with the unfavorable decision of the Executive Committee of the organization on a matter involving himself and another member. Mr. Weidner will continue in business as an independent real estate operator and broker, and will pursue an aggressive business policy in his new capacity, he stated last night.

The disagreement is said to have resulted from sale by Mr. Weidner, acting in good faith, of a property which had been placed under contract by another member but not reported to other members of the Board, as a list-

"Until there is a state of mind in Europe in which doubt and suspicion are absent, it is impossible to discuss details; then discussion becomes a battle for points. Until there is an atmosphere of mutual confidence, there is no use in even opening the matter of details.

"Now, I do believe there is a new feeling of optimism in this country, in Europe, as to the prospect of European settlement, and I do share it. If you had been here, say, in November, you would realize now what a change has taken place since then, the differences disclosed in the new state of mind between Britain and France. Then we did not have the right state of mind, could not discuss details. Now we can accomplish things and believe we are going to accomplish them."

"Again, I remind you, don't forget your golf; it will teach you many things. Remember, in golf not only you do not press, but also you have patience; yes, patience is very much in golf, in international affairs, also."

"What about your plans for making wider use of the League of Nations than hitherto?" I asked.

"Well, I do not care to say much about that. I have spoken and written my views there. That is a subject which, if you talk about it loosely, your views get spread abroad inaccurately. I think I had better refer you to what I have written on that subject."

I will say, however, that the issue is there, that we must, we shall make much more use of it than we have so far."

"What about Labor and Russia?" I asked. "In America there is not a little tendency to see a connection between British labor and Moscow." "I know," he replied, with just a touch of feeling. "I know what is said in America and elsewhere about the relation of our party to Moscow; but it is all so absurd, so absurd, the whole idea that there is any connection between us and Moscow. No one has fought Moscow as bitterly as British labor. Why in fact, it was British labor which finally broke Moscow. We did that at the Berlin conference where efforts were made to unite the second and third international, and I was put up to make the fight."

"We fought Moscow, we have beaten Moscow, we are not afraid of it. Moscow has little or no following in this country. Now and then it attempts something in the way of propaganda; it may give us a little trouble, but not much. It is no longer a danger in this country."

do not say that it never can be a peril again. Yes, it was a danger once, when it was young and strong, when Europe was in tumult. But it is only a danger now in those parts of Europe where the devastation of war remains. This country is not afraid; we know it, we have faced it, beaten it."

"As for the British Labor party, the British Socialist party, it has always been a national party. In point of fact we Scotch have always headed it. But Scotch, Welsh, English, all our internationalists have been international from the British point of view, not from that of Moscow."

"A party has been or remains more thoroughly British in its origin, history than the British labor party. To confuse it in any way with Moscow is absurd."

And now, without seeking to make further direct quotation, therefore assuming full responsibility for the interpretation, I should like very briefly to set forth the essential details of British foreign policy under Ramsay MacDonald as I gathered them in my talk with him and from other leaders in his party and movement.

As to the main issues, Labor can no more change the direction of British foreign policy than it can modify the fact that Britain is an island. The divergence between France and British interests and policies is measurably inevitable. MacDonald must oppose France in such things as the Ruhr occupation, precisely as have Baldwin and Lloyd George. Such difference as there may be must be in method. Under Lloyd George, British policy was dexterous, clever, what the present Prime Minister would perhaps call finicky. It won victories only to be obliged to begin all over again. Under MacDonald it was arrogant. Lloyd George made promises which were not meant to be kept. Curzon made threats which proved empty. The result was the creation of an atmosphere in which confidence was lacking, negotiations were no more than hostilities. It was impossible to discuss details because the spirit made discussion futile.

The whole effort of MacDonald since he came to power is to remove that atmosphere of doubt and suspicion, to make discussion of details possible. He believes, the British people believe, he has been measurably successful. But it is clearly recognized in London that there is a second condition antecedent to success, namely, a considerable change in the French temper. This, too, London believes is coming about, but it appreciates MacDonald appreciates, that the change must come naturally, have neither the character of a British triumph nor of French humiliation.

In many ways MacDonald holds strikingly the ideals of the late President Wilson, but with this radical difference: Mr. Wilson assumed the existence in the world of a state of mind which did not exist, and on this he based his whole action at Paris. MacDonald, on the contrary, believes that the main task is to create this state of mind, that the rest will be simple.

We are, then, almost sure to see a new world conference one day if the Labor Ministry lasts; but in the meantime the Prime Minister will not "press."

candidate would tie the hands of his party in using effectively the chief bludgeon by which the Democrats may be able to beat down the G. O. P.—Oil!—Not too well known. No enemies. Made a good governor. Rather old, rather conservative, but born in Ohio and residing in Indiana is geographically well placed. A possibility—hardly a probability.

Al Smith, of New York? Too bad. He has the sort of personality and popularity that would be invaluable. But a Tammany candidate could garner few votes in the debatable middle west and west, where the battle must be won. Not available.

If none of these, then who? Well—Copeland, of New York, progressive, vigorous, magnetic. A doctor-president might restore the body politic to health.

John W. Davis? Um-m-m. Not likely. A charming fellow personally, but a bit up-stage for a popular candidate. A silk-stocking air. Nope!

Josephus Daniels? Well, perhaps. He headed the Navy Department when the sailors covered themselves with glory in the World War. He was the object of many flares, but he defended the naval oil lands from many assaults of those who wanted to exploit them.

Cordell Hull? Carter Glass? Homer Cummings?

Wait a bit! Homer Cummings. There's a good politician. Foxy. Think this over.

If McAdoo can't be nominated, the man who is nominated will need the votes of McAdoo supporters. The decision of McAdoo's backers at Chicago to keep him in the fight insures his friends having the veto power in the New York convention. If they can't put him across they can say who will or will not get across.

And while all other potential Democratic candidates were sitting back smugly, smiling to themselves at McAdoo's discomfiture, securing his seeming elimination had helped their chances. Homer Cummings was up at Chicago himself shouting for McAdoo, proclaiming him the hope of progressive democracy—and incidentally making himself solid with the McAdoo forces as a potential dark horse when and if it established McAdoo cannot pull down the nomination.

Well, that's the dope. Unsatisfactory stuff, always creating an appetite for more. But the supply in Washington is endless.

For these are the dopey days!

should fight back and make a defense that will at least create a division of opinion in political circles as to have their way too.

Meanwhile the investigation by the Senatorial committee is proceeding without uncovering anything really important. The messages passing between Edward B. McLean, Washington newspaper publisher, and his Secretary and his attorneys relative to his testimony before the Senatorial committee, are the natural exchanges indulged in by a man in search of legal advice and the tactics of the lawyers who sought to advise him are exactly what lawyers who expect to get substantial fees for their services try to do when they have a perplexed client a thousand miles away from the scene of hostilities.

The two mysteries which the publication of two telegraph messages caused in which two employees at the White House were mentioned are not mysteries at all. E. W. Smithers, Chief Telegrapher at the White House, was employed on the receiving end of Mr. McLean's Washington Beach leased wires. Mr. Smithers like a score of other telegraphers in the government service who are compelled to live on the meagre pay of pre-war days find it necessary to work nights for newspaper bureaus and others maintaining telegraph wires. Mr. E. W. Smithers, secret service man, who telegraphed Mr. McLean about a man named "Wilkins" at Hopkinsville, Kentucky, comes from that town and was simply getting in touch with Wilkins, a man employed to guard the McLean children. Mr. Smithers had originally recommended him and Wilkins went away on a vacation without leaving his address and the only way he could be advised that he was to return to Washington was by looking up the man who had originally recommended him.

These two trivial incidents have no mystery of importance if the remainder of the McLean messages are no more exciting than that, there will be no more sensations in that direction and the whole question of Mr. McLean's connection with the oil controversy will turn on his relations with ex-Secretary Albert B. Fall, whom Mr. McLean sought to befriend.

Music Memory

Contest March 15

March 15th is the date set for the Portsmouth preliminary competition in the State Music Memory contest, which will be held in Columbus March 29th.

Teams of five from the Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth grades of the Portsmouth public schools will compete at the high school auditorium March 15th, Miss Harriett Searf, director of public school music, announced last night.

The team receiving the highest score in the local competition will receive a $50.00 violin, donated by the Kuy-Graham Co.

Two teams will be selected to be taken to Columbus. The teams will be composed of three pupils each, and one will be formed from the three boys and girls making the highest scores in the city, and the other from the three highest schools.

"Sporting Youth" Draws Big Crowds

"Sporting Youth," the great dazzling film story of the younger set, that has been drawing capacity crowds to the Lyric Theatre this week will be held over for the balance of the week, the management announces.

Take Shamrocks!

Auto-intoxication, (self-poisoning), that's the word. Some think there is no such animal—but there is. If you are suffering from constipation—then you are a victim of auto-intoxication. You should heed the warning of disease; which demands immediate action. Shamrocks are effective in counteracting this poison which is undermining your health. Try one tonight and watch yourself improve. 25c at drug stores. 27c from the Shamrock Remedies Co., Manchester, O.

"Sporting Youth" is a comedy drama written by Byron Morgan author of the "Roaring Road" stories published in the Saturday Evening Post. The story does not introduce any crotchety manufacturer of automobiles, but introduces a chauffeur driving his employer's car to California and winning a winsome society maid with his dashing manner. She and all the others with whom he comes in contact, mistakes him for a celebrated English driver—whose surname he bears. He steals the girl away from a rival, a rival whose purpose it is to incorporate some villainy in order to embarrass him. The hero does not tell the girl his real identity because of his social status, but she is not "up-stage" a bit when she discovers the facts.

Is Better

Edgar, seven-year-old son of Scout Executive L. T. Henderson, was reported better today. He has been seriously ill with pneumonia.

SOCIETY

The card party given by the Pythian Sisters at the home of Mrs. John Kah on Court street Thursday afternoon, was enjoyed by a large crowd.

A pot of tulips given the oldest player, was given to Mrs. Jacob Drumer. The first prize, a boudoir electric lamp, was won by Mrs. Charles Krauser. The second prize, an incense burner, was won by Mrs. John Herrmann. The consolation favor, a bottle of ketchup, was presented to Mrs. Clarence Enrich. Refreshments of doughnuts, wafers and coffee were served at the close of the afternoon.

Miss Grace Wilhelm will entertain the members of the Frances Badger Guild of All Saints' church on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. D. Huestis on Hutchins street.

A delightful session of the Sars-Egal Club was held on Thursday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. C. K. Swain. The rooms were attractively arranged with groupings of spring flowers and the time was engrossed in the fascinating game of bridge, with the club prize going to Mrs. H. M. Rogers. Mrs. Arthur Landeman was awarded the guest favor. At four o'clock a beautifully appointed luncheon course was served at the card tables to the following members: Mrs. H. M. Rogers, Mrs. Laurence Shump, Mrs. W. W. Weidner, Mrs. C. T. Anderson, Mrs. C. B. Ehrman, Mrs. W. H. Vickery, Mrs. E. H. Randall, Mrs. Murray McCoy, Mrs. Knox Hansee and the hostess. The guests for the afternoon included: Mrs. Harry Steahley, Mrs. George Stivers, Mrs. Edward Westphal, Mrs. Carl Rose, Mrs. H. J. Donnell, Mrs. Charles Moreland, Mrs. Arthur Landeman and Mrs. C. L. Stitt.

Miss Margaret Neudoerfer presided as hostess of a charming little dinner-party last evening in her home on Franklin Boulevard. Her guests were members of the Esigo Club with covers laid at a table attractive with decorations in keeping with George Washington celebration. Miss Neudoerfer was assisted by her mother, Mrs. L. E. Neudoerfer, and sister, Mrs. Frank S. Ferguson. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the Neudoerfer home were Mrs. Frank Ferguson, Misses Christine and Jane Bothwell, Kathryn Elliott, Dorothy and Virginia Goetz, Loraine Harris, Ruth Millard, Anna Louise Robb and Clara Sunemaker.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Could you tell me where the offices of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., is located in Portsmouth? When will that new Scotch County Court House be started on? Does the compass point south when a ship crosses the equator towards the south pole?

CRICKET.

The Metropolitan office is located in the Masonic Temple. I think they will start on the new Court House some time in May. The deviation of a compass varies as the ship turns about, or in azimuth. A portion of the hull is permanently magnetized and acts as a permanent magnet; the rest is in a variable state of magnetization, depending upon the direction in which the ship heads and the magnetic latitude.

Dear Dolly—I am very much interested in your column and would like to have some of your advice. I have been going with a boy for about nine months. He comes to see me three times a week and goes with me every place that I ask him to go. Do you think that I am too young to keep steady company?

COUNTRY READER.

Miss Dolly Wise—Would you please print Henry Ford's personal address. Dearborn, Michigan.

Dear Dolly—In working infant's dress, is it all right to use pink flims? P. A. C. O. U.

Sure, it's all right. As a rule people use blue for girl babies and pink for boys, but it doesn't make any difference which you use.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me how much it costs to send a cablegram from England to this country?

WANT-TO-KNOW.

24 cents a word for fast telegrams and 12 cents per word for deferred telegrams.

Dear Dolly—Can you tell me where

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kalb celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary last Thursday evening. Their attractive home in the Bayview Apartments, Seventh and Lincoln streets. A color scheme of pink and white was used in the decorations and four tables of bridge were enjoyed until a late hour, when a beautifully appointed pink and white ice course was served. The favors were pink baskets filled with pink and white mints. Mr. and Mrs. Kalb received many beautiful presents of cut-glass and ivory in honor of the happy event.

Those present included the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Katter, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. John Kilgallen, Mr. and Mrs. George Day, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kalb, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlichter and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kalb.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barker

THE MOUSE-TRAP

"There!" declared the Beanstalk Mouse.

"Now then," said the Beanstalk Mouse to Nancy and Nick when he had carried them safely out of the dark drain, "we are in the garden's cellar where it is nice and dry. And now I shall show you the funny round dish the gardener has been kind enough to set out for me."

"What is it like?" asked Nancy. "It's round and has holes in the sides, also some very shiny whittlings with bits of cheese hung on them, all ready for me to dine on. I do think the gardener is a grand man to be so kind. But come on, I'll show you to it. It's right over here under the steps. And you must be my guests and have pot-luck with me. There is plenty of cheese for all."

The Twins were not so anxious to share Mister Mouse's meal as they were to see the wonderful dish he spoke of. What kind of a dish could it be that had holes and whittlings in it? But Nick said he was sure they would both be much obliged to stay and everything, and after that all three of them went over to the dark place under the stairs.

"There!" declared the Beanstalk Mouse with a wave of his long tail. "There is the dish right there in the corner. And do you smell the cheese? Really it smells so delicious it almost makes me want to sneeze."

"Why?" gasped Nancy the minute she set eyes on it. "That's a mousetrap, Mister Mouse!"

"A mousetrap?" shrieked the mouse, backing away in a hurry. "What did you say?"

"A mousetrap," repeated Nick. "Those whittlings are springs, and if you touched any of them, you'd be caught."

"Are you sure?" exclaimed the mouse doubtfully.

The regular meeting of the Otter-Belt society of the United Brethren Church was held Thursday evening with Mrs. George Wilkerson as hostess in her home, at 2138 Gallia Street. Mrs. Mary Samson, Mrs. Sina Kayser and Miss Grace Shump were assistant hostesses of the occasion. A delightful program was given for the pleasure of members and guests and the evening was brought to a close with the serving of a refreshment course.

The meeting of Division C of the First Baptist Ladies Aid was held, with a splendid attendance Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frank Gibbons, 1407 Sixth street. The business was transacted, a beautiful pot-luck in honor of her birthday anniversary which was celebrated also yesterday, this being a gift of love and appreciation of the ladies of the circle.

In connection with the routine business, a special prayer service was held in behalf of the services being held at the church. The afternoon closed with delicious refreshments of brick ice-cream, cake and coffee. The meeting adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Alice Beckert, 1702 Eighth street.

Those present included, Mrs. W. F. Whitney, Mrs. William Barbee, Mrs. Eugene Gower, Mrs. Charles Milliron, Mrs. Jessie Kenally, Mrs. Sue Debo, Mrs. Donald Randall, Mrs. John Burton, Mrs. Elly Coriell and children Martha and Billy, Mrs. James Dawson, Mrs. Alice Beckert and daughter Ruth, Mrs. Wade Benz and son Paul, Mrs. Day Ferguson and the hostess, Mrs. Gibbons.

Jack swung around and saw the friendly hermit standing in front of his own tent. "Come on over, son," said the old man, "and we'll have a bite together." "Fine," shouted the little adventurer, "but I wanted to catch some fish for breakfast." "Well, let's do it," came the reply. (Continued.)

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THE FRIENDLY HERMIT

Jack slept very soundly in his tent and was up bright and early the morning. He went to the entrance of the canvas shelter and peeped out. There stood Flip, still on guard. And, just as the bright morning sun, Flip barked when he saw his master.

"Just a minute old fellow," shouted Jack, "and I'll be out in the open with you." And, with that, he hopped into his clothes, threw the tent flaps back and rushed out to build camp fire. Just as he had piled several sticks together a voice shouted, "Breakfast is all ready."

Says Child Labor Rampant

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 29.—(By A. P.)—Child labor is rampant throughout the nation, the Rev. Corrado Siletti, of Jersey City, declared tonight in an address before the annual council of cities of the Methodist Episcopal church. Elaborating upon his theme, the speaker declared that

"one child in every twelve between the ages of ten and fifteen in the United States has to work," while "unknown thousands of others below the age of ten are engaged in some 'seditious' occupation."

He declared that thirty-seven states let children work without even a grammar school education, and that only thirteen states have laws which to a certain degree prohibit child labor. Nine states, he stated, have no laws which stop a child under fourteen years of age from working in shops and stores.

During his address, the Rev. Mr. Siletti reviewed conditions in the tenement district of Jersey City last summer in which he said, an investigation by the health department disclosed 1,000 children working at their homes until late at night with the result that they would fall asleep at their desks at school. Reconnecting the measures taken to better conditions in that instance, the speaker declared that Methodism can in no better way dedicate itself to "world sacrifice" than by giving its attention to the child labor problem.

EDUCATION DOESN'T "TAKE" WITH SOME SAYS O. S. U. PREXY

COLUMBUS, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—President Thompson of Ohio State University, in the first address he has delivered before freshmen since last fall today lamented the fact that "some students are exposed to an education here for four years, but it never takes."

"Some students fail to fit into the university program," Dr. Thompson said. "In a university such as ours, complex organization is necessary. There are many organizations in the university at present, however, for which I can see no need."

Dr. Thompson pointed out the needs that will be filled when buildings now under construction are completed, declaring the educational organization at Ohio State measures up to that of other universities.

THREE ACCUSED IN MURDER MYSTERY

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—With William Engelke, Julian Kaufman and Carl Hein all held on warrants charging murder or accessory to the fact, police today continued in their attempts to solve the double slaying last week of John Duffy, and Matheo Leah Exley, known as Duffy's wife.

Engelke admitted, police say that he was present at the time Duffy shot the woman during a quarrel. Duffy forced Engelke to accompany him for more than a day after that, he said but they parted to make plans for leaving the city.

Kaufman was implicated in the story Engelke told police when he declared that Kaufman furnished the automobile in which Duffy was to escape. Hein, a pal of Engelke's, is believed by police to know of both murders.

OHIO MINISTER IS PLACED IN JAIL ON MANN ACT CHARGE

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 29.—(By The A. P.)—The Rev. Frederick Harold Johnson, Mansfield, today was formally charged with violating the Mann Act in bringing Pearl I. Dauberspect, church soloist, to Jamestown for alleged immoral purposes. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Edward R. Root, pleaded not guilty and was held for the federal grand jury. Johnson could not furnish bail and a deputy United States marshal took him today to the Erie county jail at Buffalo.

Right After a Severe Illness

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets Helps You Gain Strength and Put on Needed Weight—Great

Nothing like the vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But nobody wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely does the work.

Ask Fisher and Streich, Wurster Bros. and Stewarts, Cut Rate Drug Store or any regular druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. They are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on five pounds or over in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist will return your money if you don't take on five pounds in 30 days.

Great for weak, run-down children, too, and gives them a hearty appetite—60 tablets, 60 cents.—Advertisement.

Movies and Schools Closed Because of Smallpox Epidemic

CLEVELAND, Feb. 29.—(By The A. P.)—Schools and moving picture theatres at Chagrin Falls have been ordered closed by County Health Officer Robert Lockhart as a precaution against the spread of smallpox. Thirty persons were suffering from the disease today, Dr. Lockhart said, but the peak of the outbreak is past. All of the cases are in mild form. Virtually all of the school children and many adults have been vaccinated.

BANDITS SLUG BOY MESSENGER; GET VALUELESS CHECKS

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., February 29.—(By The A. P.)—Checks totalling $67,358.97 stolen yesterday when highwayman slugged Myron Gross, 15 year old messenger of the Indiana National Bank, were found a short time later in an alley ten blocks from the scene of the holdup. The checks were of no value except to the consignees.

Gross had left the bank with the regular afternoon shipment of checks to the Federal Reserve Bank at Chicago and was slugged as he attempted to pass an automobile parked in a down town alley. The highwayman escaped in the machine, when Gross ran a short distance to notify a traffic policeman.

Gwynn F. Patterson, cashier of the bank, said the checks were not worth a penny to any one except the reserve bank to which they were being sent.

ALLEGED BANDITS CAUGHT SHORTLY AFTER ROBBERY

SAGINAW, MICH., Feb. 29.—(By The A. P.)—Three men alleged to have been implicated in the robbery yesterday of the Polish branch of the Bay County Savings Bank at Bay City, were captured here an hour after the robbery.

In a traveling bag officers found $12,265 in currency.

The three men arrested gave their names as Otto Bronkal, Chicago; Edward Ryan, Toledo, and John Murphy, Flint, Mich.

The money and five revolvers were found in a coupe driven by Murphy. Ryan and Bronkal were in a larger car, a short distance ahead of Murphy. They denied any connection with the robbery and asserted they had never seen Murphy, but Bay City officers who trailed them after the robbery, said all three men had been stopping at the same hotel.

Why go half way? ALL BRAN is a necessity!

When constipation is ripping the health out of your body you can't afford to temporize! For health's sake—DON'T—when bran, Kellogg's Bran, because it is ALL BRAN, is guaranteed to give you positive, permanent relief!

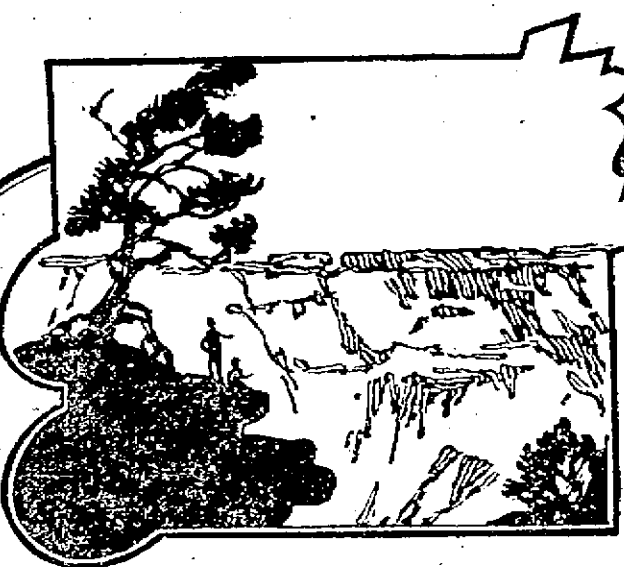

Know the truth about bran! To be efficacious, to give you sought-for relief, bran must be ALL BRAN! Foods with a part bran content cannot be considered as a relief for constipation sufferers! These foods do not have the bulk or "roughage" to drive out the conditions that are undermining your health!

What you need for 100 per cent relief is 100 per cent bran, and that is what you get when you buy Kellogg's Bran—IT IS ALL BRAN! And it is 100 per cent efficient, as your physician will tell you!

Kellogg's Bran, all cooked, krumbled and ready to eat, is delicious as a cereal or used in baking and cooking. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily, or as much with each meal in chronic cases—and rid yourself of constipation and the toxic poisons that lead to many of the most dreaded human ailments!

Remember—Kellogg's Bran is ALL BRAN and guaranteed to give you 100 per cent relief! DON'T GO HALF-WAY! All grocers.

Control Board Members Due To Reach Preserve Tonight

According to word received Friday by Deputy Game Protector P. D. Voorhees, members of the Board of Control of Ohio will arrive tonight to spend the week end on the Roosevelt Game Preserve, West Side.

Their mission will be two-fold as they will enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees and while here will take steps to have the Preserve enlarged.

Included in the party will be Charles V. Truax, Director of Agriculture, who has assumed active charge of the Fish and Game Division; Jos. E. Tracy, Senator from Ohio; and while here will take steps to have the Preserve enlarged.

Court House

Entry Approved

An entry approved yesterday by Judge Thomas directs that the divorce suit of Harry Edwards, Sr., against Lucinda Edwards be redocketed. It developed that the suit had been dismissed through inadvertence and the action of the court restores it to the docket and puts the case in line for hearing at an early date. Edwards is day janitor at the courthouse and is represented by Attorney J. T. Micklethwait.

Finding for Defendants

A finding in favor of the defendants

In the case of George West, doing business as the West Plumbing Company, against Charles and May Conklin, was made by Judge Thomas in a decision handed down Friday.

Plaintiff sued to recover the sum of $168.39, claimed as a balance due on a contract for installing plumbing in the home of the defendants at 2030 Kinney's lane, and the Conklins disputed the account. Evidence in the case was submitted to the court several days ago.

Attorneys McLaughlin and Staker for plaintiff and Attorney P. W. Moulton for defendants.

Gets Suspended Sentence
William Osborn, well known character, who was indicted by the last grand jury on a statutory charge, entered his plea of guilty yesterday afternoon in common pleas court. Judge Thomas sentenced Osborn to one year in the penitentiary and suspended the sentence on Osborn's promise of good behavior.

Mayor's Decision Reversed
In an opinion transmitted to Clerk of Courts John W. Hall yesterday afternoon, Judge James S. Thomas reversed the decision and sentence of Mayor Verner Herley of New Boston in the case of the state against Thomas Delfand.

The defendant took the case to the common pleas court on error, after being fined $300 by the New Boston magistrate.

Cooper Changes Plea; Sentenced
When Jonas Cooper, 23 years old, Upper Twin Creek young man, appeared in Common Pleas court Friday morning for trial under indictment charging him with shooting at with intent to kill, he was permitted to change his plea from not guilty to guilty to the second count of the indictment charging shooting at with intent to wound, and Judge Thomas sentenced him to the penitentiary for a term of three years.

The shooting occurred on the night of February 21 last when Cooper admitted he fired from ambush upon a squad of county officers while in the Upper Twin Creek district searching for liquor law violators and that when Deputy Sheriff Ezra Carter later approached him, fired upon the officer and then dropped his revolver and ran away.

In a statement to the court Cooper claimed that he did not aim to hit the officers and only fired in the hope of scaring the mob little credence was put in his story which the officials regarded as a flimsy excuse.

Children Adjudged Guilty
Pharo Childers, Jefferson township farmer, was adjudged guilty of neglecting his three minor children by failing to send them to school, at a hearing in Probate court Friday and Judge Gilliland fined him the costs and sentenced him to jail for ten days. The jail sentence was later suspended on condition that Childers keep his children in school.

The complaint was filed by A. B. Fenton, County attendance officer.

Bruce Sent To Jail
Oyle Bruce 24 years old, railroad switchman, was sentenced to jail for three days and fined the costs by Judge Gilliland in Probate court yesterday after the defendant had been adjudged guilty of unsupport of his minor child.

The warrant on which Bruce was arrested was sworn out by his wife, Mrs. Stella Bruce, 1918. Wealthy, who said that the defendant had wholly failed to support her and their baby daughter, Louise, now 20 months old.

Petit Jury Excused
After the Jonas Cooper case had been disposed of through the defendant changing his plea to guilty in Common Pleas court Friday, Judge Thomas excused the petit jury subject to call. The jurors will probably not be required to return until about the middle of March when Judge Will P. Stephenson, of West Union, will come here to hold court.

R. W. Goddard Heads Credit Association

New officers were elected at the February meeting of the Portsmouth Association of Credit Men last night. President R. W. Goddard was elected to the head office of the association. Vice-president was chosen R. A. Williams. Secretary was re-elected R. A. Williams. Treasurer, C. M. Howland served as president the past year.

The program last night included a dinner at 5:30 at the Mary Louise, after which the election was held. Several interesting talks closed the meeting. President Goddard, secretary of the Huntington Association of Credit Men, and R. J. Barlow of the Broadstreet Company, Huntington, were visitors who spoke. Mr. Howland, formerly of the Huntington Drug Company, is now in business for himself in Ashland, where he has the Ashland Drug Company. Mr. Williams, of the Tread Shoe Company spoke on "Dissolving Factors in Arriving at a Line of Credit." Albert Graf of the Tread Shoe Company led in a general discussion of business. Twenty-three members of the local organization were in attendance and interest shown indicates one of the best years in the history of the organization.

Inez Can't Stay Away From Chauncey

CHILLICOTHE, Feb. 29.—Miss Inez Spaulding of Waverly just can't keep away from Chauncey Steele, North High street man, according to her own admissions. Twice arrested in his company in Portsmouth, and responsible for Steele's arrest in Detroit and return here to face charges of abandoning his wife, the woman was nabbed by police early last evening. They found her hidden in Steele's garage.

The latter, bound over to the grand jury on a non-support charge, was released from the county jail on bond and promised to return to his family. The woman, police learned, has been here two days. She will appear before Mayor Minshall on a charge of disorderly conduct. She has a child living in Waverly. Her husband came here today to intercede in her behalf.

Planning for Chancellor Class

Committees representing Magnolia, Peerless, Scitoville K. of P. lodges met last night at Mr. Goddard's hall, Fourth and Washington streets, and made plans for a special Grand Chancellor class which will be taken in during April. Candidates in this class will receive the first degree of Paga rank April 8, with Peerless Lodge putting on the work. Scitoville lodge will confer the Esquire rank, or second degree April 14 and Magnolia Lodge will put on the third degree, or Knight rank, April 21. About 30 candidates are expected from the three lodges. Theodore Bauer, Peerless lodge, was chosen chairman of the committee at its meeting last night. A. A. Highfield, Magnolia lodge, secretary, and Ora Beckmann, Magnolia lodge, treasurer. Ralph Johnston, Magnolia lodge, was named to take charge of the entertainment arrangements.

Fire Destroys Home While Family Visits

OAK HILL, OHIO, February 29.—The home and all its contents of Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan (Sarah Jane Lewis) was completely destroyed by fire about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

A buffet, rug, sewing machine, heavy table and a few chairs were all that was saved. No one was at home when the fire broke out and it was with difficulty an entrance could be made, but the flames had then gotten beyond control. The house, a four-room cottage, was owned by Ed Pfeiffer and was covered by insurance. Mrs. Morgan and small son are visiting relatives at South Charleston, and were expected home Thursday.

To Inspect Lodge

Announcement was made at the weekly session of Elmore Temple, Pythian Sisters, last night that an inspection of the lodge would be made next Thursday night by District Deputy Mrs. Jessie Evans of Jackson. Two candidates will receive degree work at the inspection and a social good time will follow. Members of the degree team are called for a special practice session at 1:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon at the K. of P. Hall.

Building Is Sold

ASHLAND, KY., Feb. 29.—Sale of the Murphy & Abrams building, a four-story structure at the southeast corner of Fifteenth street and Group avenue, by Judge J. J. Rucker to Sidney Polinsky, Ashland merchant, was made today by U. M. Blair, of the real estate firm of Blair & Justice, who conducted the negotiations.

The price paid was $51,000. Mr. Blair told The Independent.

Mr. Rucker bought the building about a month ago. Mr. Polinsky said he made the purchase as an investment, but ultimately wanted to put a department store in the building.

May Stage Big Scrap

NEW YORK, February 29.—The place in the public limelight held last year by New York, where eight world's title fights occurred in 1923, probably will be usurped this year by New Jersey, according to present indications.

Not only have an accumulation of circumstances involving legislative action charges of ticket speculation and other events made the future title situation uncertain in this state, but a direct bidding for leading ring plums of the year, including two or three heavyweight title bouts, has been made by New Jersey's proposal to increase to $25 the maximum admission charge in that state. This figure, an increase of $10, yesterday was approved by the House of Assembly.

Tex Rickard, fortified with his big pine bowl at Boyle's Thirty Acres, expects to conduct there most of the leading attractions he is negotiating for during the outdoor season, particularly if apparent hostility to such prospective matches as Firpo-Wills and Wills-Dempsey bouts continues in New York.

The promoter has declared he is ready to use his Jersey arena as a site for a Wills-Firpo contest, if the principals accept his $30,000 offer for it as a result of the withdrawal of a New York syndicate which had put up a $850,000 purse in an effort to land the match. In addition, Rickard also may utilize Boyle's Thirty Acres for the proposed return match between Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons, which he expects to stage early in June.

Other heavyweight battles which might be staged across the Hudson include a return match between Firpo and Dempsey and prospective Gibbons-Georges Carpenter fight. New Jersey plans, however, according to legislators, to allow at least three big matches in one year.

Four Candidates

Four candidates were favorably balloted upon and three applications were received at the regular meeting of Portsmouth Council, Jr. O. U. A. M. last night. The applications of Mark Pratt, Alva Rogers, Tracy Lawson and Arthur Wall were approved. Two candidates balloted were Clarence Reynolds and Raymond Kemper.

Banker, Charging Wife With Shady Past, Relates Story Of Courtship

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—Beverly D. Harris, banker, who is suing for annulment of his marriage to Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris, on the ground that she concealed the true story of her past and painted pictures of aristocracy of the family connections, passed the day in Supreme Court telling of courtship, his love, married life, and the ending of the romance. When he left the stand his counsel rested his case.

Mrs. Harris' case was opened with the submission of depositions tending to show that she was Eleanor Elaine Lee, a daughter of Mrs. Seleuda N. Lee, born a few months before the death of Mrs. Lee in 1890, but that she was not Samuels, "Susie", or "Shwilla" Lee. Court Room Crowded was crowded and the testimony at times sensational, kept the spectators buzzing and brought frequent interruptions. Once, when her husband, on cross-examination, was asked about a suspicion he once had had that his wife was the daughter of Zeina Lee, an octogenarian who conducted a house of ill repute in Memphis, Mrs. Harris burst into tears and sobbed on the arm of George Gordon Battle, her chief counsel.

On another occasion when her husband, telling of her efforts to get a divorce, said he never had as much as $50,000 at one time in his life, she leaped from her chair and gave him the lie. She was admonished by Justice Wasservogel and was warned she would be taken from the court room if it happened again.

TEXAS RANGERS TO HELP TROOPS KEEP ORDER AT LUFKIN

LUFKIN, TEXAS, February 29.—(By The A. P.)—Texas Rangers were enroute to Lufkin today to help state militiamen maintain order pending the trial Saturday of Booker T. McMillan, alias Williams, negro, on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Andy Sulzer near here. The situation in Lufkin, where a mob last night unsuccessfully attempted to storm the Anglin county jail and lynch McMillan, was quiet.

Four persons were recovering from slight wounds received when shots were fired from the jail after deputies had warned the mob that the prisoner could not be taken except by force.

BELIEVE DONAHEY'S SON WILL RECOVER WITHOUT OPERATION

COLUMBUS, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—Dick Donahey, the governor's 15-year old son, was slightly improved today, a report from the governor's office said.

The youth was injured a few weeks ago while skating at New Philadelphia. Dr. J. E. Monger, state director of health, visited the patient today and declared he thought the boy would recover without an operation. "Injury to his chest," Dr. Monger reported, "followed by influenza, created a dangerous condition, but temperature was lower today and the boy is resting nicely."

DEMOCRATS URGE PROMPT DECISION ON VETS' BONUS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—Prompt consideration of a soldiers' bonus bill will be sought by Democratic house members, who, at a conference last night voted to request house ways and means committee to report out an adjusted compensation measure at the earliest possible moment.

The conference vote of which was not binding, was attended by practically all Democratic members. Various adjusted compensation plans were discussed with Democratic members of the ways and means committee, but no specific recommendations were made.

MISERY IN HEAD, COULDN'T REST

Ohio Lady Was Suffering from Womanly Weakness, But After Taking Cardui She Grew Strong and Well

Chillicothe, Ohio.—"Cardui is my standby as a tonic," says Mrs. Mary Smith, of 677 Orange St., this city, after relating her experiences in the use of that well-known medicine for women.

Some years ago, Mrs. Smith says, she found herself in such a serious condition from some womanly weakness that she could do no work and scarcely could get up or down. "I had misery in my head," she says, "and just ached at times till I couldn't rest. I would have dizzy, fainting spells and just stagger. I didn't have an appetite."

"Some one told me I needed a good, woman's tonic. I asked and was told Cardui might help me. I began to use it and, after a short time, I could see I was being gradually made stronger."

"I quit having the weak spells. I ate and seemed to relish what I ate. I could sleep without waking up at night. I grew strong and well and when the ... came around, I had very little trouble."

Knights of Malta To Have a Local Chapter

The Ancient and Illustrious Order of Knights of Malta is to be represented in Portsmouth by a new Commandery, which has just been organized by J. M. Biles.

Mr. Biles has organized several lodges in Portsmouth for other orders and is well known in fraternal circles. The charter which has been granted will carry the names of some of the city's leading fraternal workers.

This is the second attempt to establish a Commandery of this order by Mr. Biles, the first one being made over thirty years ago, but the idea being abandoned because of the money panic which spread over the country at that time.

Being organized in Jerusalem, A. D. 1018, and having an unbroken record down to the present time, the Knights of Malta claim the longest continuous history of any secret order in existence today. With one exception it is the most ancient order in existence.

The degree work of this order consists of 12 beautiful degrees taken from 12 chapters of the Bible, making it appeal to all ministers of the Gospel and Bible schools workers.

The date of institution has been set for Saturday, April 5.

The list of charter members to date includes the following: James M. Biles, M. L. Deatley, A. Dave Kehoe, Clyde Ball, Carl Davis, Pearl Muuron, John E. Fritz, Elmer E. Gaynu, H. D. Bahner, Heber Shonkwiler, W. H. Withers, James C. Sleight, W. M. Yost, Albert Fulk, Willard Thompson, Charles B. Warnock, George S. Morgan, Rev. G. M. Howerton, Floyd H. Lawson, Garland E. Lewis, Arthur Davis, George Kolb, John W. Kimble, Ed W. Brady, H. B. Adams, A. B. Cantaberry, E. J. Starcher, Oscar C. Allen, G. D. Hunt, E. O. Sherouse, John E. Allen, John W. Ratcliff, John R. A Relief Measure In The Interest

Of Good Service

It is with considerable reluctance that we are compelled to advise our subscribers and the public generally that, effective March 1st, 1924, we will discontinue answering requests for Time of Day, Location of Fires, Base Ball Scores, Calling People in the Morning, and other information not a necessary part of telephone traffic.

Up to the present time this company, wishing to give its patron the widest use of its facilities, has cheerfully furnished this information, although other telephone companies have long since discontinued the practice.

However, telephone traffic has increased so heavily that we have now arrived at the point where this special service seriously interferes with our regular service. We are averaging approximately 80,000 calls per day of which 2000 are requests for time. Every second given to handling calls of this kind means a second taken away from calls of vital importance. We must discard the non-essential and center our efforts on the essential or your service will suffer.

Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

KENTUCKIANS GET BACK OF STANLEY FOR PRESIDENCY

HENDERSON, KY., Feb. 29.—(By The A. P.)—At a mass meeting here today of friends and fellow townsmen of United States Senator A. O. Stanley, resolutions were adopted endorsing him as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president. An organization has been perfected here to work in the interest of Senator Stanley's candidacy with the intention, according to leaders of the movement, to campaign actively for the role of the Kentucky delegation in the New York convention.

Gasoline Price Conspiracy Charged In Suit To Oust Nebraska Oil Firms

OMAHA, NEB., Feb. 29.—(By The A. P.)—Fifteen oil companies operating in Nebraska are charged with conspiracy to fix and control the price of gasoline and allied products in a suit filed today in district court of Douglas county by O. S. Spillman, attorney general. The attorney general seeks to have the companies named ousted from the state and forbidden to operate within its borders.

Companies against whom suit is brought include the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska; United States Oil Works; Nicholas Oil Corporation; Anderson-Johnson Oil Company; Nebraska-Lovola Oil Company; Stoll Oil Company; Omaha Refining Company; Standard Oil Company of Indiana; Sinclair Refining Company; National Refining Company; Manhattan Oil Company; the Texas Oil Company; Tidal Refining Company; Texaco Oil Company; and the Shaffer Oil & Refining Company.

Would Cancel Franchises.
The petition asks that the defendant corporations "be ousted and excluded from all corporate rights in the state" and that "their franchises to do business be declared forfeited and cancelled."

The suit was precipitated, the attorney general indicated, by the futile attempts of John Hopkins, Omaha city commissioner, to purchase gasoline from the defendant companies to be sold in Omaha by the city at prices below those of the corporations.

A. H. Richardson, president of the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska, declined to make a detailed statement. "I knew of no combination," he said, adding that he did not care to discuss the case further.

Upholds Finding of Magistrate

Judge Thomas handed down a decision yesterday affirming the judgment of Squire C. O. Davis, of New Boston, in the case of Sherman Seages against Talmage Jones, of New Boston.

Seages sued for $98.80 damages he claimed to have sustained on July 25, 1923, when a machine driven by Jones collided with his Dodge roadster when it was parked on Beech street, East Portsmouth.

Squire Davis found for Seages in the sum of $9.65 and plaintiff appealed to Common Pleas court which now says that the finding of the magistrate was correct.

Police Catch Girl Bandit In Battle With Male Pal

PHILADELPHIA, February 29.—(By The A. P.)—Philadelphia's "hobnob bandit" was captured today by police in a pistol battle with her male accomplice, who escaped after seriously wounding one patrolman.

The girl gave her name as Dorothy Rodgers, and admitted having participated in the robbery Tuesday night of a chain store, the police said. Her capture followed an unsuccessful attempt to hold up a shoe store whose manager frightened the bandits by shouting for help.

They fled to the street where their efforts to start a parked automobile attracted police attention. The man commandeered a motor truck, covering its driver with a pointed pistol. Stephen Fabek, the first policeman to reach the scene, rushed at the bandit as the latter stood on the running board of the truck. At point blank range the bandit fired, and Fabek fell with a bullet in his stomach. The truck started leaving the girl bewildered on the sidewalk, where other police seized her. Police started in pursuit of the truck and for a half mile a running fight was kept up until the police machine was disabled when a tire was punctured.

Students In Love With Same Girl Suicide, Is Belief

POTTSTOWN, PA., Feb. 29.—(By The A. P.)—Finding of the bodies of two students of the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, shot to death in their room in the local Y. M. C. A. today, lead to efforts by police to discover whether their deaths were due to a suicide pact prompted by infatuation for the same girl. The dead youths were Thomas Shenton and James Warkness, both of Pottstown. A note in Shenton's handwriting, indicated a double suicide.

The bodies were discovered by Clara Huerting, another resident of the Y. M. C. A. dormitories, who found Warkness's body lying at the door of the room, with his head overcoat on, and a muffled over his face, while Shenton's body lay on the bed, fully clad, shot through the left chest with a pistol beside it. Warkness had been shot in the temple and chest, the wounds being powder marked by the close range of the shots.

Shenton's parents are dead and he had lived at the Y. M. C. A. for some time. Warkness lived with his mother here.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach, and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Disrupted Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Disrupted Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. —Advertisement

McDonald Defends "Card Men"; Says They're Legally Appointed By Him

COLUMBUS, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—Charges by Attorney General Crabbe that "card" prohibition officers were not vested with legal authority were answered late today by State Prohibition Director McDonald, who defended the "card" men of his department as legally appointed by him by virtue of his authority as director.

Director McDonald's statement was issued after a long conference with Governor Donahey, who took a hand in the controversy earlier in the day by calling on Attorney General Crabbe for a written opinion as to the legal status of the "card" men.

Certain articles of the general code were cited by the prohibition director in support of his contention that the issuing of cards was legal. He declared, however, that if the "card" course was construed as illegal, he would gladly follow the dictates of those in authority and let the responsibility rest where it belongs.

Opinion Not Issued

Attorney General Crabbe's written opinion had not been given the governor late today.

"In answer to requests for a statement on an opinion supposed to have been rendered by the attorney general," Director McDonald's statement said, "I wish to say that had it not been for the services rendered by these temporary inspectors, otherwise known as 'card' men, there would have been no enforcement of the law whatever.

"I have as a rule made no such appointment except upon request of reputable citizens of the community in which the appointment is made.

"I have said, and still say, that these officers should be paid by the state, through appropriations made for that purpose by the legislature. But the last legislature turned down a request by me for an appropriation of $20,000 for this particular fund and instead actually reduced the general appropriation of my department below what was allowed the previous administration.

His Cites Law

"Section 6212-22 of the general code provides for the appointment of the temporary inspectors and provides that their compensation should be specified by the prohibition commissioner but in no event to exceed the sum of $10 per day. But very few of them have been allowed anything by me from the state and in no case in excess of the said $10 per day.

"The policy and construction of the law I inherited from the former administration and have pursued the course followed by my predecessor, Don V. Parker, now in the attorney general's office, except that I have required such officers to give bond."

Pronounced Illegal

Attorney General Crabbe in an interview with newspapermen early in the day, declared as illegal the appointment of "card men" over and above the number of twenty emergency men as provided for by law.

Director McDonald estimated that about 75 men held cards at this time. Governor Donahey is expected to take definite action in the case when he receives the written opinion from the attorney general. He would not intimate what his action might be.

In rendering his oral opinion the attorney general characterized the operations of the "card men" as "vicious" and not in accord with proper enforcement of the prohibition laws.

"The policy and construction of the law I inherited from the former administration and have pursued the course followed by my predecessor, Don V. Parker, now in the attorney general's office, except that I have required such officers to give bond."

Pronounced Illegal

Attorney General Crabbe in an interview with newspapermen early in the day, declared as illegal the appointment of "card men" over and above the number of twenty emergency men as provided for by law.

Director McDonald estimated that about 75 men held cards at this time. Governor Donahey is expected to take definite action in the case when he receives the written opinion from the attorney general. He would not intimate what his action might be.

In rendering his oral opinion the attorney general characterized the operations of the "card men" as "vicious" and not in accord with proper enforcement of the prohibition laws.

In one week you will be joyfully surprised—it hasn't failed yet—in your case it may be the exception to the rule—if it is, get your money back—Advertisement.

B. & O. Is 97 Years Old

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company yesterday celebrated its ninety-seventh birthday anniversary. Upon this date, in 1927, the charter was granted to the company, the first railroad in America, by the Maryland legislature. Since then the Baltimore and Ohio Company has far surpassed the fondest hopes of its founders, numbered amongst whom was the venerable and historic figure of Charles Carroll of Carroll, who laid its cornerstone. Being the first railroad in America, the history of the Baltimore and Ohio is closely interwoven with the annals of the nation down to the present time.

Chicago Strike Riots Renewed; One Man Shot

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—One man was shot and seriously wounded today when rioting broke out again as a result of the walkout yesterday of several thousand members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

William Goldstein, of Samuel Goldstein & Company, a women's apparel firm, was shot after he had endeavored to get three men who were arguing with workers, in the shop in an alleged attempt to get them to leave their work, and to leave the place.

Eleven men arrested yesterday were arraigned in municipal court today and demanded jury trials. Nine of them are charged with disorderly conduct and the other two are charged with assault and battery.

A woman was arrested today for tearing down a "help wanted" sign at a dress making establishment.

AKRON MAY HAVE TO PAY EXPENSES OF BUS OWNERS

AKRON, O., Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—With the resumption of street car service here today for the first time since February 1, the biggest immediate problem facing the city administration was the settlement of claims of out of town bus owners who brought their machines here to help the city operate its temporary transportation system.

Mayor D. C. Rybolt said that the city probably would pay the bus owners' expenses to Akron and back to their former homes if they wish to leave. The question will be decided by the council in the next few days, he said. The busses may continue to operate for sixty days on their present routes, but after that must accept new routes or cease operation.

CHURCH DESTROYED

CINCINNATI, Feb. 28.—Despite efforts of a volunteer fire department, the Christian church at White Oak, Ohio, twelve miles from Cincinnati, was destroyed by flames late today with a loss of $10,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

Home Made Cough Syrup Considered Best

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes, Heals and Stops Cough Almost Instantly.

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. Simple coughs, or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

It's fine for chest colds too and for acute nasal catarrh.

Get from any druggist one ounce of a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing medicine on a sore throat, this home made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

And remember—any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal discharges.

Fire Damages Auto

A short circuit is thought to have caused a fire that caused slight damage to Lefty DeBerrienne's Chevrolet touring car at Fourth and Walke streets about 5:30 o'clock Thursday evening. East End and Sixth street firemen responded to the alarm and extinguished the flames with phenolics. DeBerrienne lives at 633 Second street.

125 Enjoy Fellowship Banquet

One hundred and twenty-five young people gathered about dining tables at the First Christian church last night, for the Young Folks Fellowship Banquet. The banquet was arranged by the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Robinson.

Dinner was served at 6:30 by the Young People, and an impressive program came just before the meal was served, when the Endeavorers stood for a moment of silent prayer of condolence for Miss Audrey Wilson, in her bereavement over the loss of her mother.

Three minute talks by the following young people opened the program after dinner:

"Training for service through Christian Endeavor," Raymond Lemon.

"Young People in the Home," Miss Eva Morgan.

"Young People in the Church," Paul Williams.

"My Education and I," Miss Violet McFarland.

"Growing Character through Christian Service," Miss Virginia Robinson.

The principal address was delivered by Rev. Thomas L. Lowe, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Church of Christ, Columbus. Dr. Lowe is regarded as one of the finest preachers in the capital city. He has been pastor of the Fourth Avenue church for a number of years, and preaches twice each Sunday to packed houses. His address last night readily explained his popularity in Columbus. It was an address of inspiration and education which will be long remembered.

Following Dr. Lowe's address, the big crowd enjoyed a "grand march" which provided lots of pep and fun and fitted an intermission period during which the chairs and tables were being cleared away.

A social hour followed, which was voted unanimously a real success. "Best of the tie that binds" and Mizpah closed a splendid evening.

Indictment Is Nollied

The celebrated case of the State against Myrtle Smith, of Powellsville, indicted on a charge of abusing an officer, was wiped off the criminal docket yesterday when the indictment was nollied by Judge Thomas on motion of Prosecuting Attorney S. Angell Skelton.

Miss Smith was accused of abusing Ex-Sheriff E. E. Riskey when he called at her home to collect money on an execution issued from Common Pleas court for costs in an injunction suit brought against Miss Smith to settle a dispute over a fence, and which was settled out of court.

The alleged offense was committed in November, 1921, and Miss Smith was brought to trial in February, 1922, before a Common Pleas court jury, which returned a verdict of guilty. A fine of $10 and costs was assessed but the defendant refused to pay and instead prosecuted error proceedings to the Court of Appeals and that tribunal on reviewing the case remanded it. The case was never retried and now it passes into history.

Attorneys Thor K. Funk and Eugene Smith of Huntington the latter a brother of Miss Smith, defended her.

COX ENDORSED IN CUYAHOGA COUNTY

CLEVELAND, Feb. 28.—(By the A. P.)—Mrs. Minnie B. Siddall, of East Cleveland, was endorsed by the Cuyahoga County Democratic Executive Committee today as a candidate for delegate at large to the Democratic national convention in New York. The committee pledged its support to James M. Cox for the presidential nomination.

Mrs. Siddall will go in the place of Mrs. Bernice S. Pike of Lakewood, Democratic national committee member, who will attend ex-officio. James A. Reynolds, former state senator, was endorsed for alternate at large, and Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, was put in the field as a district delegate.

George Oakes, a popular street car conductor, resigned and departed for Pittsburgh, to accept a position. Louis Rossinger, of Pine Creek, took Mr. Oakes' place as conductor.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

STRATTON NABBED AS SOON AS TERM IN OHIO PEN ENDS

COLUMBUS, Feb. 29.—(By the A. P.)—Clyde Stratton walked out of the Ohio Penitentiary today, after having completed a term on a burglary charge, into the arms of Illinois officials. He will be taken to Joliet to finish serving a sentence there. He escaped from there in 1918.

Stratton is noted, according to penitentiary officials, for his ability to successfully get out of prison. He was received at the Ohio Penitentiary the first time in 1910. October 11, 1911, he scaled the wall of the institution. He was captured in August, 1912. Several months later he made his way to freedom through an underground sewer.

In a letter to Warden Thomas of the Ohio Penitentiary, during his last confinement there, Stratton promised not to attempt to escape "because of the more than square deal you have given me." He said, however that "two weak spots are tempting me badly."

New Line Guards Against Water Shortage

Under a contract entered into several months ago a reserve water line, designed to protect the city in case of emergencies, was connected up with the water plant of the Wheeling Steel Corporation yesterday by the city water work force.

A thirty-six inch main was hooked onto the steel plant water line, but it will be used only when absolutely necessary. The new line guards the city against a water shortage and former mayor W. N. Gableman is deserving of much credit in securing the arrangement with the steel corporation.

Mayor Ralph Calvert and Services Director Charles Wilson inspected the work after it had been completed yesterday and declared the new main will mean much to the city in case of emergency. They regard it as a big improvement.

Columbia Receivership Is Lifted

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Judge Learned Hand, in the United States District court, has announced the end of the receivership of the Columbia Phonograph Manufacturing Company.

This action enables the company to come into its reorganization which the creditors have been working toward for more than a year.

Plans have been completed for the new company—the Columbia Phonograph Company, Inc.—to start immediate operation and carry on its constructive policy in a broad and aggressive manner.

The new Columbia Phonograph Company, Inc. begins its business life in an outstanding position," said H. L. Wilson, president of the company.

In discussing the District Court's action, "It has an experienced organization, has developed and improved a high quality of product; and is backed by a strong group of bankers and business men. It has ample capital to meet all future requirements of its business and is without funded debt."

In connection with the discharge of the receiver it was announced by Mr. Wilson that W. C. Fahri, one of the oldest and best known phonograph men in America, has been selected as vice president and general sales manager to guide and direct the sales policy.

MANY HERE QUICKLY RELIEVED AFTER USING VEGETABLE SYRUP

It is necessary to keep one vital organ of your body in condition: If you expect to feel your best.

This organ is your liver! When working properly it aids digestion, prevents constipation and purifies your blood. When your liver is clogged up with impurities it cannot do these three things until it is properly cleansed and toned. Consequently you often wake up mornings feeling dull and tired, frequently such as lack of appetite, poor digestion, coated tongue, sick headaches, stuffy cold, nervous and upset. And you continue to feel out of sorts until your liver has been properly cleansed and toned. Get quick relief! Take just a spoonful of Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup after the next few meals. Notice the quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel. This vegetable syrup contains only ingredients known to the medical profession for their corrective and health-building properties. Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup is pleasant to take, and you will be completely satisfied; otherwise, druggists are authorized to return the small cost. Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup is sold and recommended by Flood & Blake and The Service Drug Company in Portsmouth and leading druggists in every city and town.

In the spring a young man's fancy may turn toward love—but it's morally certain that the foremost thought in a woman's mind is—clothes!

Boyish-Type Suits Are In the Lead For Spring

The tide of favor is overwhelming for the tailored suit—so much so that the entire spring wardrobe evolves about the suit and its accessories.

The boyish style is the mode—masculine materials, hair-line stripes, covert checks and worsted lead in favor—but for all that, the finished product is distinctly feminine.

Some of the smartest suits have tiny set-in vests—of pique satin or linen—all of them are exquisitely tailored and finished.

New Dresses Breathe Of Delightful Spring

Radiantly lovely dresses possessed of an irresistible charm—making winter a thing of the past—bringing fresh assurance of the reality of spring.

Roshanara, satin, crepe and taffeta are leading materials—sometimes plain and sometimes in striking figured effects—basque and straight-line models that are delightfully appealing.

$16.50 to $79.50

Spring Coats Are Slim And Beltless

Slim and straight and beltless are the smartest coats for spring—tied at the side or fastening with an ornamental button. Often a coat combines two colors in a novel fashion—a coat of tan boasts of green revers, with the crepe de chine lining in the same tone.

Charmingly youthful are the swaggering plaid sports coats—cut a bit fuller than the usual spring model—and as smart as smart can be.

Artfully Charming—Hats of Striking Individuality

Tiny toques vie with glorified cloches for favor; turbans with tight-clinging brims, tricornes diminutive in all their proportions; a collection so diversified, so large, so ultra-smart, as to make choosing a delightful pastime.

Wife Loyal to Bandit Mate She Can't See

MRS. MARJORIE FAY PRUDOM
GEORGE PRUDOM

By NEA Service.
HARTLAND, N. Y.—The husband whom Mrs. Marjorie Fay Prudom here has never seen through her sightless eyes faces possible prison sentence for banditry.

But, despite the alleged confession of guilt he is said to have made to police and his offer to release her, the blind wife persists in saying she will "remain true to the end." "I have never looked into George's face," Mrs. Prudom says. "But instinctively I know he is a good and fine man."

"Till death do us part" were the words I said when we married. And I meant them. Every one."

She says she will go to the penitentiary town to be near him if he is given a prison sentence.

Palmer

Senator Underwood," Palmer said, when asked about a report sent to McLean that he had done so.

He also denied that he had discussed the matter with any senator except Walsh, of Montana and Chairman Leonard.

"I did not have a living soul working on Senator Walsh," Palmer said, when questioned about another of Major's telegrams.

Testifying never retracted, Palmer said, "I rather regret, considering the size of the fees he had paid."

Palmer said that so far as he knew no suggestion had been made to McLean as to what he was to say in explaining that he did not make the loan to Fall.

Earl O. Schuyler, Denver lawyer, said before the oil committee today that the claim of Leo Stack which he pressed with Harry F. Sinclair, was based on the theory of a conspiracy between Sinclair and the Pioneer Oil Company.

"There at least was a prima facie case," he said, "that the Pioneer had joined with Sinclair in helping him to get the lease."

Wilson's Birthday

To Be Holiday

COLUMBIA, S. C., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Woodrow Wilson's birthday, December 28, will be an annual holiday in South Carolina under a joint resolution of the general assembly sent to Governor McLeod for his signature. The measure, which originated in the house, was adopted last night by the senate.

Daugherty To Stay On List

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Attorney General Daugherty will be retained on the list of Coudge delegates at large from Ohio to the Republican National Convention, regardless of the fight upon him in the senate and regardless of whether he remains in the cabinet.

"This has been decided at conferences concluded here today by Hoke, chairman, manager of the Coudge campaign in Ohio, with William M. Butler and other Coudge leaders. Mr. Daugherty believes Mr. Daugherty's candidacy is a personal matter on which the Ohio voters should be permitted to pass in the primary if the attorney general desires it."

The period of filing candidacies for delegate, expires today.

Here Are Winners In Oratorical Contest

A crowd which filled the high school auditorium, was on hand last night for the oratorical contest staged by pupils of St. Mary's high school. Thirteen entrants contested for the prizes of $5, $3 and $2, and rights of district oratorical league of the parochial schools.

Winners were, Edward Krick, speaking on "Co-operation and Industry," Miss Rosa Doll, "Influence of the State," and Ralph Bihlman, who discussed "Present Day Problem of the Farmer."

Judges were William J. Burke, Mrs. Walter Gableman and William Richardson. Music was furnished before, after and between the numbers by the St. Mary's school orchestra.

DETROIT, MICH., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the four-story brick warehouse of the Commercial Milling Company early today, resulting in loss estimated by company officials at $250,000. Negro Couldn't Rent, So He Bought Apartment for $200,000

NEW YORK, February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—James O. Thomas, a negro assistant United States attorney, was unable to rent an apartment in a part of the city where he desired to live with his wife and infant son, so he purchased a $200,000 seven-story modern apartment house, he announced today. It is occupied by white families and is fully three blocks from the nearest section of the Harlem "black belt." Thomas said he would make no changes in the tenant list, leaving the matter of future occupancy entirely in the hands of the families now living in the house. Thomas said he had paid $80,000 of the purchase price for the house, he made the money, he said, in real estate transactions, collecting rents at night with one hand on a pistol in his pocket.

Candidate For Commissioner

While in the city, Friday, Fred J. Hansen, prominent farmer of Wheelersburg, announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for commissioner of Scioto county at the primaries to be held next August. Mr. Hansen is one of the best known farmers in the county and has had considerable experience in road and bridge building. Always a loyal republican, yet he never before sought preferment at the hands of his party. He is progressive, a man of keen business judgment and has made a success at farming. He is prominent in those enterprises that has to do with his community and a member of Rising Sun lodge, F. A. M., Wheelersburg. His many friends predict he will win, and they are solidly behind his candidacy. Mr. Hansen has an extended acquaintance in Portsmouth and Scioto county and this will stand him in good stead in his campaign, which he expects to make in every township in the county.

DISAPPOINTMENT IN LOVE, LITERATURE AND THREATENED FAME LED TO SUICIDE

NEW YORK, February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Disappointment in love, besides literary and theatrical failures, caused Valerie Belasco Martin, formerly of Seattle and Milwaukee, to kill herself in her mother's Riverside Drive apartment yesterday.

Miss Martin was said to have killed herself less than an hour after she had returned home from a gay supper party with two men, one of whom was a former Red Cross captain, a married man, with whom she was declared to have been deeply in love. The girl met the captain at a hospital where she had gone to tend to wounded soldiers.

She was reported to have told the girl at their last meeting, a few hours before she returned home to kill herself, that he expected his wife to divorce him but that he proposed to never again marry. The following verses written by the captain, were found in Miss Martin's papers:

"Valle dear, it's quite pathetic,
When a lady gets poetic,
And inflicts her thoughts aesthetic,
On an unfeeling pal;
And if I remember rightly,
You have devoted slightly
From the facts when touching lightly
On our friendship, little gal."

"Now I never said my kisses
Should be kept for my dear Mrs.,
For in such a world as this is,
That would make life rather diti;
And I never made love to you
From the time that I first knew you.
You don't really mean it, do you,
When you state that I did that?"

"In a tone that's almost childing, you accuse me, dear, of hiding facts I should have been confiding in you as a family friend. And although it may be true, it was a low down trick to do it. I confess it in the end. The chances you have been taking are the reasons why I'm shaking one I've learned to like too well. And although it seems like hitting kind of low old girl, I'm quitting, though I'm candidly admitting that it certainly is hell."

The girl's story of failure had its first chapter in Milwaukee. There her mother, who Valerie was eleven years old, established a little theatre and Valerie wrote a play. It was a quaint piece and her mother staged it. People liked it and Valerie's heart beat pangs of success. The family moved to Seattle where Valerie studied elocution, stage dancing and voice culture. At nineteen her mother brought her here.

"You'll see," she told her mother,
"soon you will have a famous daughter.
Our cousin will start me on the road to big success."

Cousin Of Belasco
The cousin was David Belasco, who helped her to an engagement in the musical comedy "Very Good Eddie."
Her part was a minor one, but she was content to start at the bottom. When the show ended, weeks of illness followed. Her next engagement didn't last long. Then followed a number of small engagements with long gaps of illness between. The "big time" she learned, was crowded, there were many others like her.

She started writing—poems and short stories she turned out and a few special articles. Few of them were marketable. The returns were mostly rejection slips.

Have Hard Life
Her mother, a widow, on coming to New York, had married James Ryan, a real estate auctioneer, now said to be in Pittsburgh. Mother and daughter had difficulty in making ends meet.

Early today her mother heard groans, rushed to her and held her in her arms as she died.

A note addressed to the mother, spoke bitterly of looking agents. There was also a reference to a book that advanced the theory that there are too many people in the world.

The postman today delivered a package to the apartment. It contained an autobiographical manuscript—"The Evolution of a Poetess," by Valerie Belasco Martin—and a rejection slip.

Glass Workers' Union Takes Over Huntington Factory

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The National Glass Workers' Union took over the Camp Glass plant under an optional lease to purchase it in 1925. The plant, which has been idle for two years, will be operated under the name of the National Window Glass Manufacturing Company with the officers selected from the working force.

The union owns 61 per cent of the stock, it was announced, and the remaining 40 per cent has been offered to the employees under a stock ownership plan. The plant employs 300 men.

McAdoo Not to Invade Missouri To Reply to Reed

KANSAS CITY, MO., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—An announcement was made here that W. G. McAdoo will not come to Missouri to answer charges being made by United States Senator James A. Reed, his opponent for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Senator Reed, speaking here last night, challenged Mr. McAdoo to meet him on the platform in Missouri for a joint discussion of the oil lease disclosures.

The McAdoo headquarters at St. Louis, however, issued a statement announcing that Mr. McAdoo would not make a personal campaign in the senator's home state and declaring that friends of Mr. McAdoo in Missouri assumed full responsibility for the decision.

In reply to statements by Senator Reed in a speech at St. Joseph, last Wednesday, Breckenridge, Long, defeated by Reed for senator in 1920, and associated with C. C. Oliver in the McAdoo headquarters here, issued a statement today referring to Reed's opposition to the food control bill in 1917, stating that Reed "has been the legal representative of the J. Ogden Armour interests," and stating that Armour interests were opposed to the passage of the food control bill. Long adds "there may have been no connection between the influence Reed exerted as an officer of the government to defeat the measure," but Reed was in the employ of the Armour interests at the time, and the result now more effectively speech against selling influence if he had resigned his personal connection with Armour interests."

Nearer My God to Thee, Favorite Hymn of "Smoke Eaters"

ZION, ILL., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—"Nearer My God to Thee" is the favorite song of the "Smoke Eaters" who fight the nation's fires, according to advices received at the radio broadcasting station of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion.

Voliva's 50-piece band last night broadcast the number dedicated to the firemen, after requests that it be played had been received from fire fighters in Chillicothe, Ohio; Bucyrus, Wis., and McDonald, Pa.

Before the rendition of the number, a letter explaining the reason firemen love it, was received from a "Smoke Eater" in McDonald, Pa., was read aloud. The letter follows:

"We had the pleasure of listening to your program last Monday evening and enjoyed the music very much. Because of the clearing part of your program, you stated you had a request from some fire house boys in Chillicothe, Ohio, to play or sing 'Nearer My God to Thee,' and you wondered why this piece was so popular with the smoke eaters in general, as you stated you had had this request from various firemen so often that it caused you to wonder at the reason for the numerous requests."

"I believe that the news items of the daily papers can show you why the firemen like to hear that beautiful piece played or sung at any time. It brings back to the firemen the memories of some pal who went to his reward trying to save life and destruction of property. Will you please play it Thursday evening and dedicate it to the firehouse boys?"

The message was signed "From One of the Smoke Eaters at McDonald, Pa."

TO FACE TRIAL
CHICAGO, February 29.—Charles and James De Nova, brothers, probably will be removed to Toledo today to stand trial in connection with an indictment returned by an Ohio grand jury charging them with participation in the disposal of loot taken in a Toledo mail robbery February 27, 1921.

The De Nova brothers are alleged to have received $142,000 as their share of the proceeds of the robbery in which $700,000 worth of loot was taken.

Scientists Prepare for Third Everest Attempt

By NEA Service
LONDON—Science is to make a third attempt to scale Mount Everest in the spring.

Led by Captain Geoffrey Bruce, a group of hardy adventurers will make another attempt to conquer the ice-clad giant whose peak breaks through the Himalayan range on the frontier line of Tibet at a calculated height of 29,002 feet above sea level.

All selected for the trip will be equipped with latest oxygen appliances necessary to sustain life in rarified air.

Mount Everest was first charted by white men in 1903. Two unsuccessful attempts have been made to reach its summit, through expeditions fostered by the Royal Geographical Society and the Alpine Club.

So far eight men have given their WIERD, creeping, annoying sensations—scratch—scratch—eczema and other skin eruptions, spoiling your complexion—causing you unclean for embarrassment—angry—ruining your temper. All because of impurities that are rampant in your system—because your red blood cells are dormant.

S. S. S. clears up skin eruptions through its power of cleansing the blood. Herbs and barks, carefully selected and scientifically prepared and proportioned, which make up the ingredients in S. S. S. are the most feared and dreaded enemies of skin disorders. Eczema, pimples, boils, blackheads and other skin diseases pack up and leave the system when S. S. S. sends new rich blood coursing through your veins.

Have a general house cleaning for your system. Let S. S. S. rid you of those impurities which tend to keep you in a run-down condition. Skin disorders are nothing more than bilboards announcing that the system is "off color." S. S. S. is sold by the leading drug stores. The large size bottle is the more economical.

P. H. S. Draws Greenfield for First Game

Portsmouth's high school basketball team arrived at Ohio University, Athens, this noon in this shape and at the drawing for places held at 12:30 o'clock was fortunate in drawing the last game in the second round of the elimination contests. Only eight teams entered, Hillsboro failing to show up. Portsmouth is to meet Greenfield at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The semi-finals will be Saturday afternoon and the finals Saturday evening.

Man Accused of Assaulting Officer Escapes

Although no charges had been filed until this afternoon, it was said that Harrison "Nip" Clifford, well known North End young man, is being sought by prohibition agents for alleged violating the dry law and for assaulting a dry officer.

Clifford is alleged to have struck a young man named George Waters, Jr., said to be a "card" prohibition agent, after he had been nabbed by Waters and his companion officer, Pearl E. Selby at Eleventh and Chillicothe streets at 11:30 o'clock.

Clifford and then placed him under arrest and slipped handcuffs on his prisoner. Then the battle was on, so the story goes, and in the encounter which ensued, the dry agent was knocked out while Clifford beat a hasty retreat and escaped.

Must File Petitions Before Midnight

Zero hour for declaration of candidacy for places on the delegations to the national conventions is midnight, and up to this afternoon several candidates had qualified.

Phil M. Streich and Lee Smith filed their declarations as candidates for delegate from the Sixth Congressional District to the Republican convention to be held in Cleveland in June.

Their first choice is Hiram Johnson and their second is John D. Packard of Cleveland. The alternates are H. Wells Elliott and Mrs. Inez Frowine of this city.

John O. Martin of Aberdeen, Brown county, qualified as a candidate for alternate from Brown county. His first choice for the presidency is Calvin Coolidge and second is A. L. Garfield.

W. A. Inman filed his declaration papers as a candidate for delegate from the Sixth Congressional District to the National Democratic convention to be held in New York. His first choice for the presidency is James M. Cox and second is James E. Campbell.

Held On Possession Charge

When B. Johnson, negro, who was caught by the police in the North End last night for possession of liquor, was brought into Municipal court Friday he pleaded guilty and Judge Sprague at the instance of the state deferred sentence until March 3. The defendant was ordered held under $200 bond.

Eckhart Arrests Couple

At the instance of Special Agent of the Department of Justice John P. Eckhart, Cincinnati, Jack Lawson, 28, and Mrs. Jeanette Handyside, 23, of San Francisco, Cal., were arrested at Middletown, yesterday, on charges of having conspired to violate the Mann and "white slave" act.

Daugherty

There that Senator Cummings, of Iowa, the president pro tem, did not desire to name the committee.

"The traditions of the senate," Senator Lodge argued, "required that the presiding officer, should receive from the senate every mark of personal respect," and should not be curtailed in this customary privilege of naming the members of special committees.

Declaring that all he wanted was a fair and impartial investigation, Senator Wheeler charged that Attorney General Daugherty had sought to "intimidate" senators by saying that if some of them did not resign he would have an important statement to make. "Intimidated Man At The White House"

Senator Wheeler also declared the attorney general already apparently had "intimidated" the man at the White House because "we all know that his resignation would be acceptable to the president."

"We all know," added Senator Wheeler, "that the president for some unknown reason has not the stamina to ask for that resignation."

Declaring that there were "peculiar senate itself choose the investigating committee, Senator Wheeler said that Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, recognized as the senate spokesman for Mr. Daugherty, had gone to President Cummings and asked him to appoint certain senators.

"All I am asking," Senator Wheeler asserted, "is that we have a committee that will investigate the attorney general in a fair and impartial investigation. All I want is to see that we have a real investigation and we will not have men on the committee who will be constantly consulting with the man we are investigating."

After Senator Wheeler had read a newspaper article, quoting Mr. Daugherty as declaring "if certain senators have not resigned by tonight," he would have an important statement to publish, Senator Willis submitted a telegram from the attorney general disclaiming responsibility for any statement attributed to him.

"I have made no statement and authorized none since I left Washington," the telegram said.

Senator Willis explained he had talked with Senator Wheeler about the make-up of the committee and had suggested several Republicans as desirable members. He said he had mentioned Senator Borah, of Idaho, James of Washington, Frank of Kentucky, and Shortridge, of California.

"I submit," he said, "there was no intention or purpose to pack the jury." "Does the senator feel he had told the whole story?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"Did I not ask you to select one man from the so-called progressive on the Republican side and one declined?"

"The first name mentioned was that of Senator Borah, who is usually considered fairly progressive," returned Senator Willis.

He added, however, that Senator Borah had declined to serve.

Talked About Appointments

"Did you talk with the attorney general about committee appointments?" asked Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas.

"Yes," Senator Willis said. "It was discussed. I told him what the usual procedure was."

"Is it customary to let the man on trial select the jury?" pursued the Arkansas senator.

"Certainly not; nor was that suggested or thought of," shouted Senator Willis. "The senator, if he likes, may judge another's motives by his own."

The questions directed at Senator Willis during numerous interruptions, led repeatedly, to fiery clashes which drew demonstrations from the galleries. Spectators were twice warned by the chair that they must be silent.

Senator Willis asked if there was any impropriety in an inquiry by Mr. Daugherty regarding the prospective committee personnel.

"And how senators stood?" said Senator Caraway.

"There was no inquiry of that kind," returned Senator Willis.

Says Willis Wanted To Pick Committee

Senator Wheeler then charged that Senator Willis "wanted to pick the committee."

"I did not," said Senator Willis, "that is false."

"Didn't you suggest names?"

"I suggested the names of several senators who I thought would be efficient and faithful."

"Faithful to the attorney general?"

"That statement is false," Senator Willis thundered.

"I repeat that there has been no effort on the part of any one to pack a jury in behalf of the attorney general."

"I suggested the names of several senators who I thought would be efficient and faithful."

"Faithful to the attorney general?"

"That statement is false," Senator Willis thundered.

"I repeat that there has been no effort on the part of any one to pack a jury in behalf of the attorney general."

"I suggested the names of several senators who I thought would be efficient and faithful."

"I repeat that there has been no effort on the part of any one to pack a jury in behalf of the attorney general."

"I suggested the names of several senators who I thought would be efficient and faithful."

"Faithful to the attorney general?"

"That statement is false," Senator Willis thundered.

He said he voted for him forty times at the convention. He also was a member of the resolutions committee which reported the first oil plank in history for a Democratic platform.

At the request of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, Senator Willis read the plank and then under questioning conceded that he was "not criticizing that plank at this time."

"Then the senator approves it?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Oh, I didn't say that; you can't get me to approve the Democratic platform."

Senator Willis said Mr. McAdoo because "very active in carrying out that plank."

"If I got $100,000 to try to acquire these foreign oil concessions," he said, "and he would have gotten $1,000,000 if he had put it across."

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, then read the Republican plank in the 1920 platform declaring for "looking for the public good the great untapped resources of the country."

There was another burst of laughter in the galleries.

Referring again to details of what he characterized as the "everybody knows it" story of Senator Wheeler, Senator Willis said that the "only statement that the senator was able to get away with was that about a dead man, as Smith."

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, interrupted to read the telegram sent by D. S. Rochester, who he said was "Mr. Daugherty's confidential man," to E. B. McLean, advising him of the oil committee's intention to inquire into his bank account.

Senator Dill asked for Senator Willis' opinion and the Ohio senator replied that if the Department of Justice employed had sent such a message, "it was highly improper and ought to be punished."

Senator Wheeler then brought up the McLean telegram before the oil committee, referring to "Willis."

"The fact that the senator is willing to give publicity to a thing like that, is a fact proving he is unfit to sit on this jury," the public good the great untapped resources of the country."

He added that any person or newspaper which identified him with anything connected with the oil case uttered a "wickedly, criminally, malicious falsehood."

Daugherty Selects Counsel

CHICAGO, February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Harry M. Daugherty, United States attorney general, has retained George E. Chamberlain, former United States senator from Oregon, and Paul Hewland, Cleveland attorney, to represent him in the senate oil investigation. Announcement of his employment of counsel was made by Mr. Daugherty in a telegram to Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, sent from Frank before he left last night for Miami, Fla., to join his wife, who is ill there.

The telegram, the only formal statement made by the attorney general during his stay of twelve hours here, requested Senator Willis to advise the senate that he had not opposed the passage of the Wheeler resolution, which calls for an inquiry into his administration and which comes before the senate today.

The attorneys, Mr. Daugherty's telegram said, "represented me in a similar attack a year ago in the house, inspired by the same influences who opposed me openly and secretly and on practically the same charges with substantiating the same object in view."

"They will give such attention as may be necessary in my personal behalf so that the regular force of the department and I may continue to give our attention to the government business," the telegram said.

The attorney general spent part of the time here before the Federal grand jury investigating the administration of the Veterans' Bureau under the directorship of Colonel Charles R. Forbes.

Vaccination May Kill Your Child Too!

IT did its deadly work. The poison spread through her system and the roses faded from her cheeks. She became a pallid, sickly thing, grew rapidly weaker and weaker — and died.

As I looked upon the shrouded wax-like figure in the little boxwood box surrounded by blossoms that would have matched her budding beauty, I felt as though I was looking upon the helpless victim of a murder, and I solemnly and silently vowed to work, as long as I lived, to wipe out the criminal practice of vaccination.

The above extract is from the opening paragraphs of an article by Dr. Simon Louis Katzoff, prominent physician, author, psychologist, which appears in Physical Culture for February under the title "Killed by Vaccination."

If you have children in your family, you owe it to yourself to learn the nature of the vile and terrible stuff called "vaccine" which has destroyed little lives by thousands.

In his article, Dr. Katzoff goes into the subject thoroughly and with a wealth of dreadful details that will horrify and enlighten you.

If after reading it you can still willingly see the arms of your babies bared and their pure blood streams polluted with this essence of lingering death then God help you because you are beyond earthly help.

Here Are Democratic Delegates, Alternates

Scioto County will be represented by the largest delegation in its history at the Democratic State Convention, to be held in Columbus, May 14.

E. H. Westphal, chairman of the Scioto County Democratic Executive committee, today filed the following list of candidates for delegates and alternates to the state convention. These names will be voted upon in the primary election, to be held Tuesday, April 20. The declarations of candidacy were filed with Seymour Bein, Deputy Clerk of the Board of Elections:

Delegates—Harry E. Taylor, Adam Erick, John Jones, Seymour H. Bein, J. Alden Staker, Ben G. Rolf, J. J. Reg.

WORDS of WISE MEN

Early delights cannot long survive.

He who blows in the dust fills his own eyes.

Slander expires at a good woman's door.

My heart was troubled in seeking her; therefore have I gotten a good possession.

Calumny would soon starve if nobody took it in and gave it lodging.

Every scratch in the hand is not a stab to the heart, nor does every false opinion make a heretic.

Promises make debts and debts promises.

Good temper oils the wheels of life.

If God bolts the door do not get through the window.

Heaven designs to suit our trials to our strength.

You know not where a blessing may light.

If thou seest a man of understanding get thee betimes unto him and let thy foot wear the steps to his door.

A man should be commended according to his wisdom.

Wisdom is better than rubies, and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to her. She shall lead me soberly in my doings and preserve me in her power.

Fell Trough Door

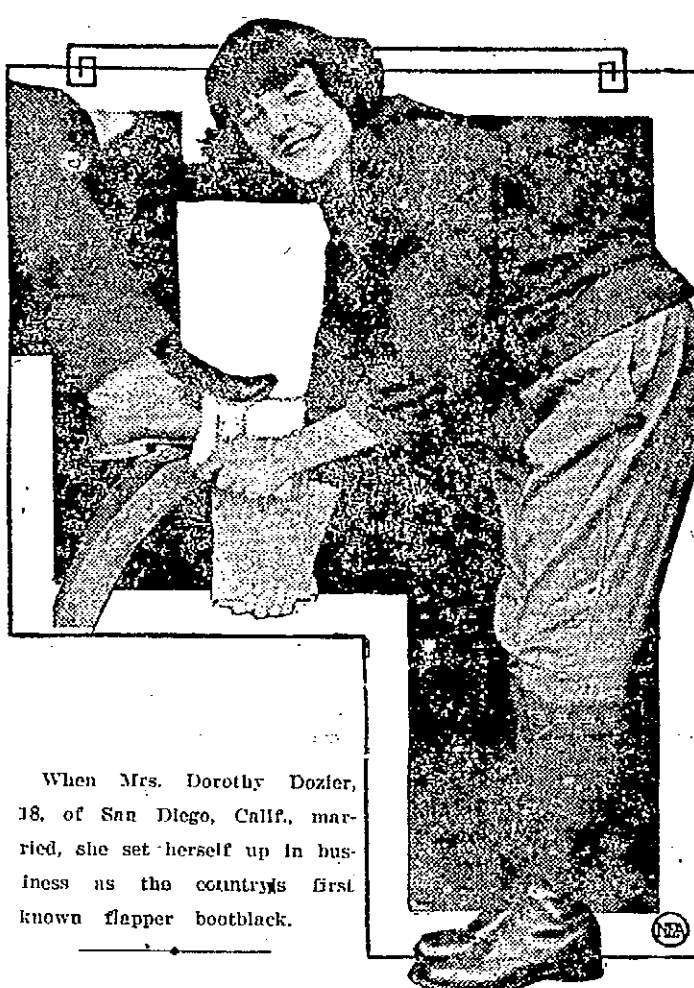

Chris Kallas, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kallas, of Lakewood avenue, New Boston, is recovering nicely from the several cuts he received on his hands and shoulders when he fell through a glass door at his home. Three other children in the household, Margaret, Eugene and Paul, are ill with pneumonia.

N. & W. Man Is Injured

H. E. Barker, N. and W. section laborer, of the Boulevard, was injured while working in the East Portsmouth yards of the N. and W. Friday morning. He was helping handle a rail when the rail fell striking his hip and loining, of the Boulevard, was injured falling on his foot. His right ankle was sprained and his hip badly bruised. He was removed to Hempstead hospital in Lynn's ambulance.

Rickey to Be Placed on Trial at Monroe

Portsmouth was scheduled to come up here this afternoon. Rickey faces a murder charge following the death of Philip Kalb, who was killed during a raid on his home early in January. Rickey strenuously denies his guilt and will be represented by Former Prosecuting Attorney Haas of this city.

Local Men Attend Meeting

J. E. Toner of the Ice Cream and Baking Company and Pearl Cranston and W. E. Cox of the Pure Milk company, were in Athens Thursday representing Portsmouth ice cream manufacturers at a meeting of ice cream manufacturers from thirteen southern Ohio counties. An organization was formed to bring about improvement in trade conditions. Parkersburg and Huntington men were also present. J. J. Schmidt of the Ohio Ice Cream Company, Athens, was elected chairman, and W. E. Cox of this city, vice-man. Another meeting will be held in Chillicothe, March 25. The counties in this district are Perry, Morgan, Washington, Athens, Hocking, Ross, Vinton, Meigs, Gallia, Jackson, Pike, Scioto and Lawrence.

Taken to The Penitentiary

Frank Lee Harris, negro, and Jonas Cooper, Upper Twin Creek, were taken to the penitentiary at Columbus this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Eliza Carter to begin their sentence. Harris was sentenced for two years for gun toting and Cooper for years for shooting at with intent to wound. They were taken to the penitentiary at Columbus on night of February 2 last.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stidham of 2100 Sixth street are the parents of a son. Stidham is a steel worker.

19, Kills Two

Three alleged blackmailers demanded Onofrio Postano's money or his life. Twice he laughed at them. Again they returned to his Cleveland home—this time to "get" him. But his daughter, Mrs. Nettie Anelli, 30, killed two of them. Now she considers it a case of justifiable homicide.

Presented With Chair

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Bachman, 2122 Seventeenth street, was the scene of a very pleasant surprise Thursday evening when about fifty members of the church in which Mr. Bachman takes an active part, gathered at his home and presented him with a handsome leather chair. The evening was enjoyably spent, at the close of which ice cream and cake were served.

Lewis Gets Contract

Otha Lewis, crack local base ball pitcher, has received a contract from the Denver team of the Western league calling for a monthly stipend of $50 "iron men." Otha has the most of signing on the dotted line under consideration and if he decides to take a whirl in the professional ranks will leave early in March for Texas to join the Denver players in spring practice.

Warrant Withdrawn

The warrant in the case of Joe Friend, 32, arrested by the police last night for the alleged theft of clothing from Mrs. Maud Kimmomon, 525 Third street, was withdrawn Friday by consent of the court upon payment of the costs.

WORDS of WISE MEN

We sometimes make frivolous complaints of our friends to justify our own fickleness.

We easily forgive our faults when they are only known to ourselves.

He who lives without folly is not so wise as he thinks.

It is to be a truly virtuous man to wish to be always exposed to the view of virtuous people.

Pride does not like to owe, and self love does not like to pay.

Too great eagerness to requite an obligation is a species of ingratitude.

There are ways that lead to everything, and if we had sufficient will we should always have sufficient means.

Some had people would be less dangerous if they had not some goodness.

We do not always love those who admire us, and we do not always love those we admire.

Condition Is Serious

Edward Reed, of Blue Creek, Adams county, is in a serious condition with meningitis at Hempstead hospital. Dr. Vaughn, of Cedar Mills, had Reed brought to the hospital here for treatment. Reed was ill with influenza and later developed meningitis.

Are You Unable To Save?

"If you are paying rent, no doubt your rent money takes up a considerable part of your income."

"Rents are high—way out of sight! This prevents the average renter from saving or doing any real saving."

"Wouldn't it be great if you could save your rent money?"

You Can!

Save—save enough to make a reasonable cash payment on a home of your own.

The Morning Sun Brings The News Of The World To Your Breakfast Table

The full night report of the Associated Press is received by the Morning Sun over its own leased wire, giving an accurate and interesting resume of world events which must be read by everyone who wishes to keep up with world progress. The Sun prints the complete report, together with a synopsis of what has been carried in the day report, giving its readers a day by day history of the things of importance that are going on everywhere.

A Complete Sport Page

The Sun is one of the few Ohio papers carrying the box scores of the two major leagues. To make this possible a second leased wire has been installed for the baseball season, and over this the results of the ball games are received each night. No other paper coming into this territory gives more complete account of the baseball history as it is being made. All other sports and local sports of all kinds are fully covered.

Why Women Like The Sun

The Sun is growing in popularity with the women of the community, and there is every reason why it should. The local social field is covered completely as a groundwork for the pages devoted to women. In addition here are some of the special features of interest to women:

Each day the Sun publishes a recipe by some good cook of the community.

Household hints, full of useful and timely suggestions appear in each issue.

A good serial of interest to women is always found in the Sun.

Wanda Barton writes frequently on "Housekeeping Helps."

Special N. E. A. features — none better — of direct interest to women are always in the Sun.

Sister Mary is conducting a special series of "Kitchen Articles." Don't miss them.

The Sun is a clean newspaper and stands for the best interest of the community.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland Writes For The Sun

His "Health Talks" alone are worth the price of the paper weekly. Filed away these talks will be found invaluable in every family, a real "guide to health."

Cartoons For Everybody

More than a page of cartoons appear every morning in the Sun, and they are so diversified that some will appeal to each reader. "Our Boarding House," and Webster's inimitable creations are among the headliners.

For The Little Ones

Tinted Travels have proven a big hit for the children. It amuses and instructs them at the same time.

"Freckles," is a cartoon for which all the children look.

The Goodnight Stories have proved a delight to the entire Sun family. Read them to your children.

For The Farming Community

The Sun market reports are complete. The local market report will make money for those who watch it. A special column of interest to farmers edited by experts appears in each issue of the Sun.

The Local Field Covered Fully

The news of the Portsmouth community is covered by a well organized and capable Sun force. It is getting better all the time.

The Sun is delivered to you in time for your breakfast table for only ten cents a week. Phone 543.

MR. BOWSER QUALIFIES

All Men Are Not Liars, But Most of Them Are

MR. BOWSER exclaimed as above. He had been taking a nap, as usual, and, with the cat on his lap, he read a little of the evening paper and smoked a cigar.

Mrs. Bowser closed the book she had been reading and looked over the table at Mr. Bowser. She asked no questions, and it was a long minute before he continued:

"I made a very broad statement the other day, and I now wish to qualify it. I said that all men were liars, but I was a little too hasty. There are a few honest men left in New York, and I am always glad to see them. I have had a rather painful experience, and have been lied to a thousand times, and I am used to it. In the morning I want you to go to a house with me, and I can tell you all about it now.

"About ten days ago a man came to me and wanted me to sell a house for him. He said it was in the best of order and the neighborhood was genteel and bang-up. This afternoon I went through the neighborhood. It is a tough-looking joint and there is a place there where they hold prize fights. The people there are tough looking, and hardly a night passes but what some policeman is pounded up. It is one of the worst neighborhoods in New York.

"As for the house," continued Bowser, "there are about forty rat holes and the paper hangs in strips in every room. There are lots of holes in the ceiling that need to be plastered up. I do not think I would ever care to live in a place like that. I figured it would take a thousand dollars to put the house in order. I met the owner of the house and told him all about it, and he seemed greatly surprised. He had lied to me and wanted me to lie to others. I took the house right off my books and will not sell it.

"Again, Mrs. Bowser, I buy a barrel of sand and it turns out to be half a barrel.

"I buy a barrel of lye and it is only half a barrel.

"I buy a vacant lot and find out that it must be filled up. All these men, Mrs. Bowser, lie to me and expect me to lie back. The cost is more than I will get, and it seems that there is no way of making money unless I lie a little."

"But do you lie?" asked Mrs. Bowser in great surprise.

BOWSER. I. 27.

WHEN A HYMN WAS GIVEN OUT I TRIED TO SING.

ser in great surprise.

"I do not exactly lie, but there are times when I must deceive a little. I went into business an honest man, and I want to keep so. It is a very hard job.

"I bought an overcoat the first of last October, and the man asked me twice what it was worth, and over and over again he assured me that it was all wool and no cotton in it. When I got home with it you said it was half cotton and the collar was not a good fit. In two months I had to get myself a new coat, and what do you call that but lying? You see, Mrs. Bowser, the man was instructed to say that it was all wool, and if he had said anything different, he would have lost his place.

"If a man has a horse to sell he comes to me, and I find the horse has got twenty ailments. The man said he was all right, but in two minutes I prove that he isn't. He has lied to me, and takes my money. I sue him, and the cost is more than the horse. I ask you, what am I to do in such a case? I am at the end of my rope. The whole world seems to have changed in the last ten years. A lot of one-horse lawyers are to blame for it. It is ten times worse than it used to be. If I tell the truth I make no sales. I must make money or go under.

"As you know, about a hundred women went into business awhile ago. They went from door to door to sell merchandise. Their stuff was no good, and they tried to fool the people, and they had to fall, of course. The people were too wise for them.

"Men like to do business for cash. I wanted you for a partner to show you how men do business, and if you had your way about it you would have given all away what I had got."

"What you say surprises me greatly," said Mrs. Bowser.

"There is another, Mrs. Bowser, that I would like to say to you," said Mr. Bowser. "I am not good at spelling, and my office boy is worse than I am. He writes all my correspondence, and upon looking them over the other day, I saw a word that was misspelled. It was this: How do you spell 'cipher'?"

"Why, c-i-p-h-e-r, of course."

"Well, my office boy has it wrong. It is c-i-p-h-e-r, is it? I ought to tell him, don't you think, or shall I let him go ahead. He has a nuther to support and never had a good education, and I had to let him go. There is one more thing I want to ask you. Last Sunday I went with you to church, and when a hymn was given out I tried to sing. The moment I began all the rest stopped. What shall I do in future? Will I sing or will I not? As near as I could make out, my voice sounded like a foghorn. Was it good singing, or was it bad?"

"Mr. Bowser," said Mrs. Bowser, "I will not lie to you, too. Please do not try to sing, as you can't sing for shucks, and you make everybody shiver and shake when you commence. All the people in church wanted to leave the place, and I do not blame them. I like to have you go with me, but don't try to sing. If you go, some of the dears that attend church will bite you some Sunday. It is nice to have you sitting beside me, but don't sing."

Bowser flushed up and was inclined to be angry, but by and by a smile came back on his face, and he said:

"All right, my dear. I will hold the book for you and you can sing for both of us. Everybody used to praise my voice, but perhaps it has gone bad. I have been told that I would make a good actor, but maybe I wouldn't."

Mrs. Bowser looked at Mr. Bowser a long time and then said:

"We—won't quarrel about it, but please do not think you would make a hit on the stage. If other folks want to deceive each other you must not lie. It is early yet, and let's go to a movie."

"By George, but you are a wonderful woman!" shouted Bowser. "Get on your old gray bonnet, and we will skip!"

And off they went. The cat and the cricket were pleased to see.

The Bowser's were crowded on the street car, but Mr. Bowser had nothing to say. A couple of men tried to pick his pocket, but they only laughed at them.

At the theater they enjoyed themselves, and all was peace and harmony, and upon arriving home Bowser said:

"We can go once a week. I think it does us good!"

BOWSER. I. 27.

AND OFF THEY WENT.

A Representative Who Will Not Interview

BUT HE TELLS OF HISTORICAL FACTS

HE belongs to the House, and many members call him O.D. Grouch. He gets down on all the newspapers, and on almost everything else. When he saw me coming he waved his hand and said:

"Nothing for you today! You may pass on."

"But I did not know but what you might have something good," said the P. D. Q. Man.

"If I had, I would not give it to you," said the Representative.

"But why are you down on me?" queried the interviewer.

"I am not down on you, but on your paper," replied Old Grouch.

"Well, then, why are you down on the papers?"

"I will tell you, and then you can go. When a member of this House has nothing to do he whittles a shingle. Four years ago, most of them whittled and I introduced a resolution that the government present every member with a beautiful knife. The House only laughed and voted it down. Your paper had lots to say, and called me names, and so I am down on it."

"Oh, but that was before my time," laughed the interviewer.

"Well, I can't help that," was the reply. "There are other things that you are to blame for."

"What are they?"

"It got about among the farmers that George Washington did not cross the Delaware. I do not know how the news got abroad, but there were a hundred men or more who swore that Captain Kidd crossed the Delaware and gave the Hessians a licking."

"Yes, so he was,"

"And the British captured and hung him."

"Surely they hung him, and all this was before Washington crossed the Delaware. I worked two weeks to get this matter straight, and sent my copy to a paper. It did not return with a check for fifty dollars, but the editor wrote me a letter, stating he would not give me two cents. Do you think that was nice of him to use me that way?"

"No, sir, it was not," laughed the interviewer. "Wasn't your letter published later?"

"No, sir, it was not! Today, some of our farmers believe that it was Captain Kidd that crossed the Delaware. You can go on, sir, as you will not get anything out of me."

"You published something about the pumpkin vine in your paper a few weeks ago."

"It was a strange young man," said the interviewer. "I was in Africa at the time the pumpkin vine story came out."

"Well, I did not like it," said the Representative. "No pumpkin vine can take a farmer's barn, eight miles away in one night. It is too preposterous to even think of it. Whoever wrote the article did not know much about pumpkin vines. A vine will draw, but it won't draw a barn. I have been around pumpkin vines all my life, and I know what they can do."

"This was a pumpkin vine from the Agricultural Department," protested the interviewer.

"I do not care where it was from," said Old Grouch. "I have seen one draw a cake of soap, but I never saw one draw a barn. The man who wrote that article lied."

"Perhaps he was mistaken," said the interviewer.

"Oh, but he should have told the truth. The idea of a pumpkin vine is to draw, but it can never draw a barn. All the farmers are laughing about what you had in your paper, and Congress may take up the matter before we get through. Yes, sir, some one of you had it that a pumpkin vine drew a barn eight miles in one night. If anybody takes your paper they ought to stop it at once. Eight miles is a good long distance, and a farmer's barn weighs tons and tons. A pumpkin vine is only a sort of rope and it can't draw anything very heavy. If you had said that the corn pumpkins on this vine are as big as the house, somebody might have believed it, but no one believes the story of a barn being drawn eight miles."

"I am telling you," continued the interviewer, "that I was over in Africa at the time."

"Oh, is that so," said the Representative. "You went there to get a bigger lie than what you could tell at home, didn't you?"

"No, sir," was the emphatic denial.

"Well, I am through with you," said the Old Grouch. "I do not want to have anything to do with a newspaper that has a pumpkin vine drawing a barn."

"Well, let's talk of something else," laughed the interviewer.

"Oh, no, we won't," said the Representative. "Don't you ever come near me again, for I will have to put you out. You put a smirk on me, and I am going to resent it."

The interviewer ceased the Old Grouch to tell some more about Captain Kidd, but he refused, and grabbed up his paper and books, and at the door he stood and made a bow to the interviewer and then disappeared. There was a laugh from half a dozen men who had heard him talking.

JUST HER WAY.

He went up to an officer on the street and, catching hold of his buttons, said:

"I am from the country and don't know much about this town. However, I have got hold of something that you had better see to."

"Well, spit it out," said the officer.

"As I was passing by a house a little ways off, I heard cries of murder, and blows of a broomstick. I think something horrible is being done."

"Nonsense!" exclaimed the officer. "That is only a husband telling his wife that he lost at poker last night, and she is wanting a new hat the worst way. Oh, it is just a common occurrence, and don't you pay any attention to it."

Lyrics of Life

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

LET US HAVE PEACE.

This is not peace, though war may cease.

This is not peace. War ends, and then

Men must grow kind, and wounds must bind,

Together tie the world again.

This is not peace, to cease to kill, Yet hating still.

Peace now must stand her scales in hand,

Enforce her will as well as war.

The right shall say what wrong shall pay,

Not all debating o'er and o'er

The things decided to decide

For which men died.

The thing is done. A cause is won.

A cause is lost. Now fix the guilt

And pay the debt and let us get

A reunited world rebuilt.

'Tis not enough that war shall cease:

Let us have peace.

RE-ENFORCEMENTS.

Be not discouraged, O eager youth,

And think that the work of the world is done:

We are poor in faith, we are far from truth,

The work is done, there is work again

For the wisest minds of the wisest men.

Whatever is done, there is work to do!

There never yet was a flag upborne

That it did not need to be lifted new

On another hill on another morn.

Before the smoke from the field has rolled

We must fight again, the field to hold.

Be not discouraged, O youthful hearts;

There are hills to climb, there are wrongs to right

And we turn to you as the day de-parts.

Still to carry on and to fight the fight.

We have done our best that we had to do.

And we hold the field—but we turn to you.

A Kingly Visit

The King of Eskimo Paid Us a Visit

WHEN Doctor Cook was at the North Pole, trying to find it, some of the sailors on the ship discovered a young man who was all muscle. His nickname was Josh, and he liked the name so well that he adopted it. Later on, they said he ought to be King, and so he proclaimed himself King of the Eskimos.

He claimed that within a hundred miles from the Pole he was King, and he got a hundred men and women to swear by him.

When anybody refuses to obey him he gives them a punch, and most of his following carry black eyes.

He pretends to own all the oxen, deer, polar bears and everything except the weather. He does not allow anybody to kill anything without his permission.

This said King heard of us and sent us word to come along and bring our old women with us.

If we could not come, he wrote that he would come and see us. We sent him back word that he could go to a painful place, and yesterday he arrived here.

We heard a great shouting and ringing of bells, and went to the door to find the King done up in bear skins. The first words he said was that he was rather old, and we soon found him so. He had eaten a peck of onions and had swallowed a quart of whale oil. One could smell him forty rods away.

Our Indians wanted to drive him away, but we warned them not to.

The King took us out to a snowbank and threw us in, and then pulled us up and washed our faces like a dog. We got a whiff of the oil and almost fainted dead away. That was the King's way of expressing his joy at seeing us.

Our old lady stood in the door and called out to us to bust his head, but we did not do so.

We held our breath and let him lick, and by and by he was satisfied, and then went and inspected our office. It was the first printing office he ever saw, and he threw everything on the floor.

It is so cold up here that we have to use lampblack and kerosene, and he licked the stuff clean and swallowed some of our type, and he may turn into a newspaper.

Then he got his eyes on our old woman and offered five cents for her. He tried to hug her, but she warned him that she would bite his chin off. He boasted that he had twenty wives, and wanted her for the twenty-first.

Our old woman has front teeth eight inches long, and when he began to hug her, she bit him on the chin. He said that when he got her home he would have her licked.

Then we took him out to Mill 13, and he wanted us to buy the mill and make him a present of it.

When we refused to buy the mill he got very mad, and it took two men to handle him. He thought he could run a mill fine. Just then the big saw mill struck a knot and threw boards all over. The King went out of the mill on a run, and it took five men to bring him back.

Then he witnessed a man sawed in two and wanted the mill worse than ever. He thought it would be great fun to have a man fastened to the log and have him sawed in two. The boss would not allow it, and the King got sore, and then we took him and showed him our refrigerator. He wanted ten stuffed rabbits and eight deer, and then we let him understand that it would cost him about fifty dollars for his feed.

The King then grew sore again, and knocked us into a snowbank.

When he got ready to go back to his domicile he did not carry anything with him. We tied him to a sled, for he was going to take a rough way. He talked his offer for our old woman to twenty cents, but we shook our head and made no sale. Then we made a sign for our Indians to pitch into the King, but he threw them around like snowballs. Before starting, he warned us that he would be back about once a week and would eat up everything we had in the house. We said that he could come and be darned, and if he did come he would never go back.

The Kickapoo Indians does not like the Eskimo. The Eskimo is too dirty. The Indians take a bath once a month in the river, but the Eskimo takes one once a year.

The Kickapoo Indian can jump ten feet where the Eskimo can only jump three. This is another thing for the Indian to brag about.

We do not think we shall ever see the King again, but our old woman is in fear and trembling that he will come. She wants to be tied to a chair. It will be unhandy for her, but she will get along.

The Indians armed themselves with snowballs, and when the King started off they gave him a salute. The last we saw of him the dogs had dumped him into a snowbank. If he ever comes back here we will get our Indians to tie him to a tree, and they will finish him in half an hour.

The King says the Pole is too far away for anybody to explore it. He thinks a man is crazy to pay out all his money to try and find it. He says Doctor Cook was a big liar, and that he has fooled the world.

TOO MANY.

He softly entered a police station and said to the man at the desk:

"Do you want a man who has committed six murders?"

The sergeant looked at the man for a minute and then shook his head and said:

"No, I don't want you. If you had committed three I would look you up, but six is too many. Go out and murder three more and then come back."

The man went out, but he has not come back yet.

HE WAS NO FOOL.

A man was looking over the fence of a house when the owner came out.

"Say, boss," said the man who was looking, "why don't you hire me to pick up these bottles and cans?"

"For how much?" was asked.

"Seven dollars," was the reply. "I am no fool to give you seven dollars," was stated.

"Oh, you ain't staid," said the man as he let go of the fence. "I didn't know but what you were. No fool, eh? Well, then, I will go on and try the man next door."

And he went.

STOPPING THE EXPRESS

MISS MAY BAKER, eighteen years of age, and the daughter of an old engineer, lay in a fence corner just beyond a white oak tree and worked at the cords which bound her ankles and wrists.

On the opposite side of the double track five men were in earnest conversation. They were going to hold up and rob the express train on the opposite side. They were bandits. They had caught Miss May, and said to her:

"We won't hurt you if you do not shout or cry out."

The girl had been to the village to see about getting a dress made, and then started for her home by the railroad tracks. All of a sudden she felt herself seized by two men and then thrown into a fence corner.

Said the leader as he looked at her through the darkness:

"You see, little girl, we are going to rob the express train, and we don't want any noise from you. When we finished our work we will let you go, if you will keep nice and quiet."

May's father had once said to her: "If you ever want to stop the train, throw a handful of gravel stones at the engineer's window, and that will let the man know that something is going to happen."

The girl worked at the cords and finally got loose. Then she freed herself and ran through the fence into a big field. She then made for the tracks. She was a good mile away from where the bandits sat under the oak tree. She grabbed up a handful of gravel stones, and when the train came along she threw the gravel and the engineer at once obeyed her call. He knew there was something strange about it, and he did not blow his whistle at all.

A moment after the train stopped the conductor came up and asked what was the matter.

"The matter is," replied the engineer, "I have got a call."

Just then Miss May came upon the scene, and the engineer asked her if she had thrown the stones.

"Yes, I threw them as my father told me to do. There are five bandits just beyond the old oak tree, and they are going to rob your train. I am Dick Baker's daughter, and we live about a mile away."

"Yes, I know Dick Baker," replied the conductor. "What shall we do? There is thirty thousand dollars in the express car and we do not want to lose it."

"I will tell you the best way," said the engineer. "We will back up to Okemus and get the sheriff and some more men. Then we will give those fellows a glorious fight. The girl can come along with us."

The girl timidly alighted, and the train moved backwards to Okemus, and the sheriff was found and soon gathered the men he wanted.

During the run, the engineer gave up his seat to the girl, and he spent most of his time in looking at her. He was not married, and thought it his duty to look at all good-looking girls.

When they got to the spot where the bandits were all the men produced their revolvers, and also the engineer and conductor carried one.

STOPPING THE EXPRESS. I. 27.

YOU SEE, LITTLE GIRL, WE ARE GOING TO ROB THE EXPRESS TRAIN.

There was a fire on the track just by the oak tree, and the men waved and stepped the train.

They were not aware of the girl's escape and were entirely surprised. The train stood still and the pistols began to pop. The air seemed to be full of bullets, and the engineer stood close to the girl so she would not be hurt.

The bandits soon ran away. It was a quick victor for the train, and all hands were much rejoiced.

Two days later the engineer appeared at the little red farmhouse, and said to the girl's father:

"Dick Baker, I want to have five minutes' conversation with you."

"An hour, if you wish," was the reply.

"But I did not know but what you might have something good," said the P. D. Q. Man.

"If I had, I would not give it to you," said the Representative.

"But why are you down on me?" queried the interviewer.

"I am not down on you, but on your paper," replied Old Grouch.

"Well, then, why are you down on the papers?"

"I will tell you, and then you can go. When a member of this House has nothing to do he whittles a shingle. Four years ago, most of them whittled and I introduced a resolution that the government present every member with a beautiful knife. The House only laughed and voted it down. Your paper had lots to say, and called me names, and so I am down on it."

"Oh, but that was before my time," laughed the interviewer.

"Well, I can't help that," was the reply. "There are other things that you are to blame for."

"What are they?"

"It got about among the farmers that George Washington did not cross the Delaware. I do not know how the news got abroad, but there were a hundred men or more who swore that Captain Kidd crossed the Delaware and gave the Hessians a licking."

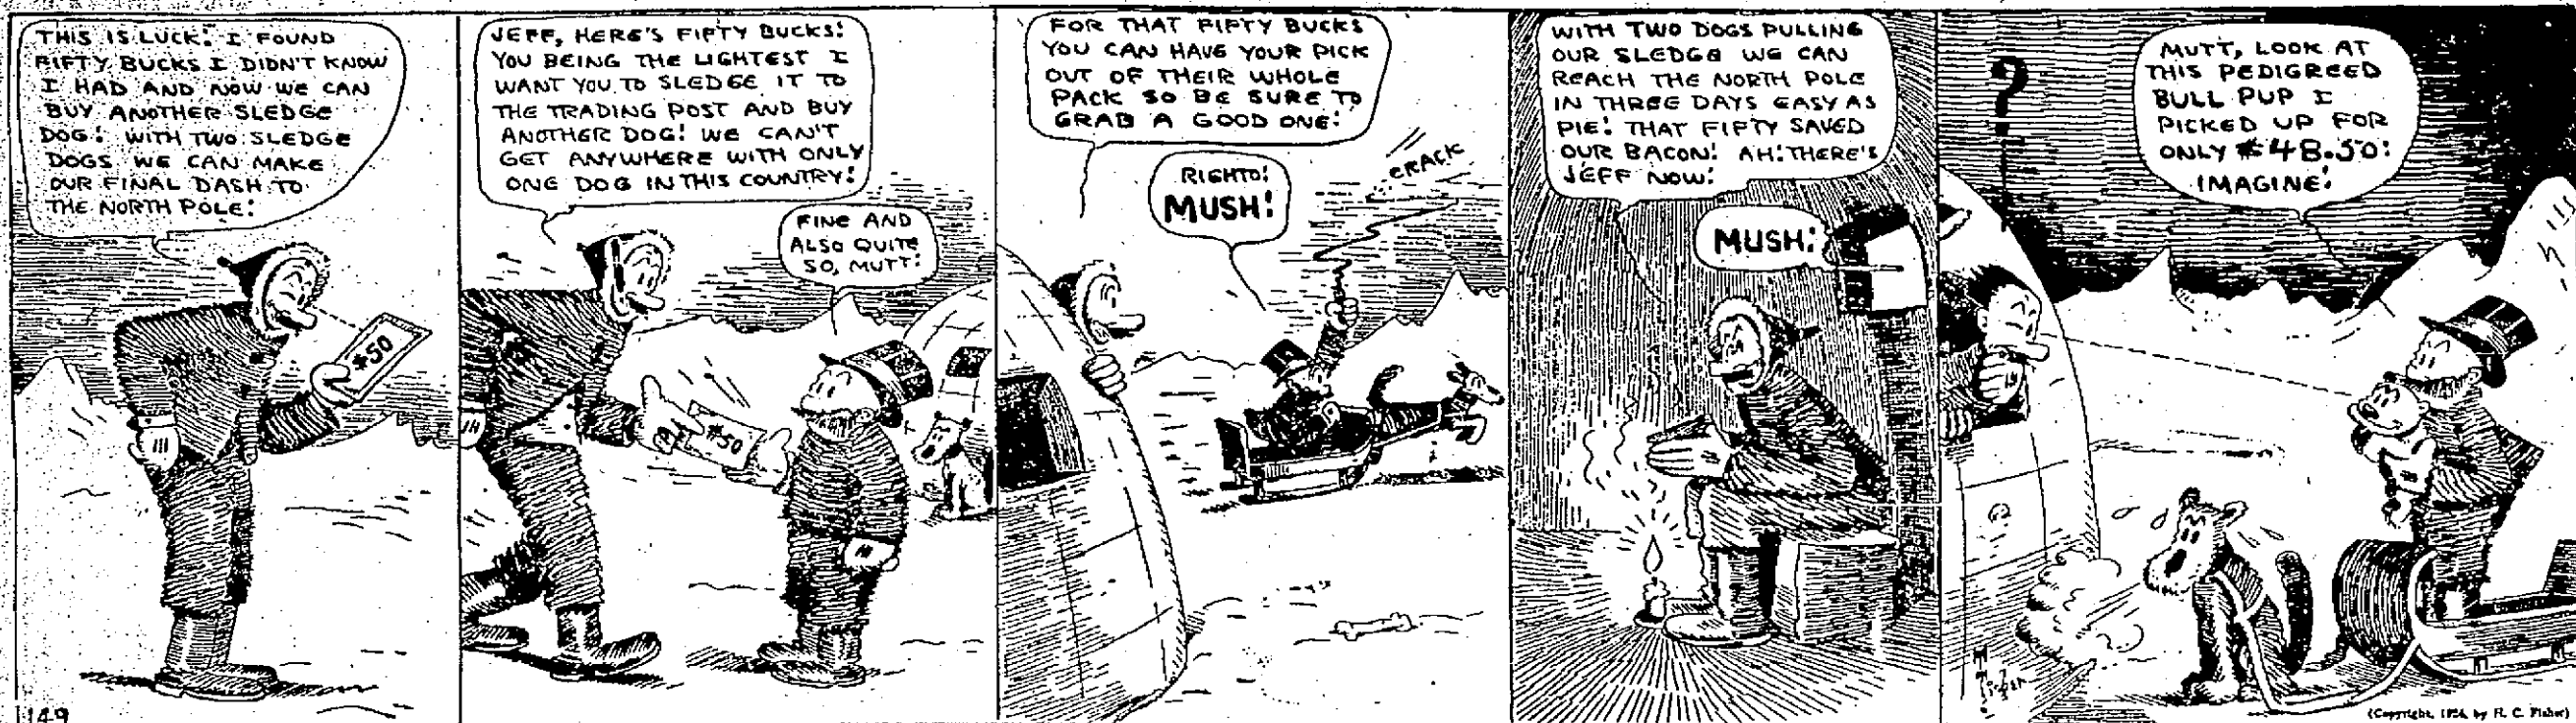

"Yes, so he was,"

"And the British captured and hung him."

"Surely they hung him, and all this was before Washington crossed the Delaware. I worked two weeks to get this matter straight, and sent my copy to a paper. It did not return with a check for fifty dollars, but the editor wrote me a letter, stating he would not give me two cents. Do you think that was nice of him to use me that way?"

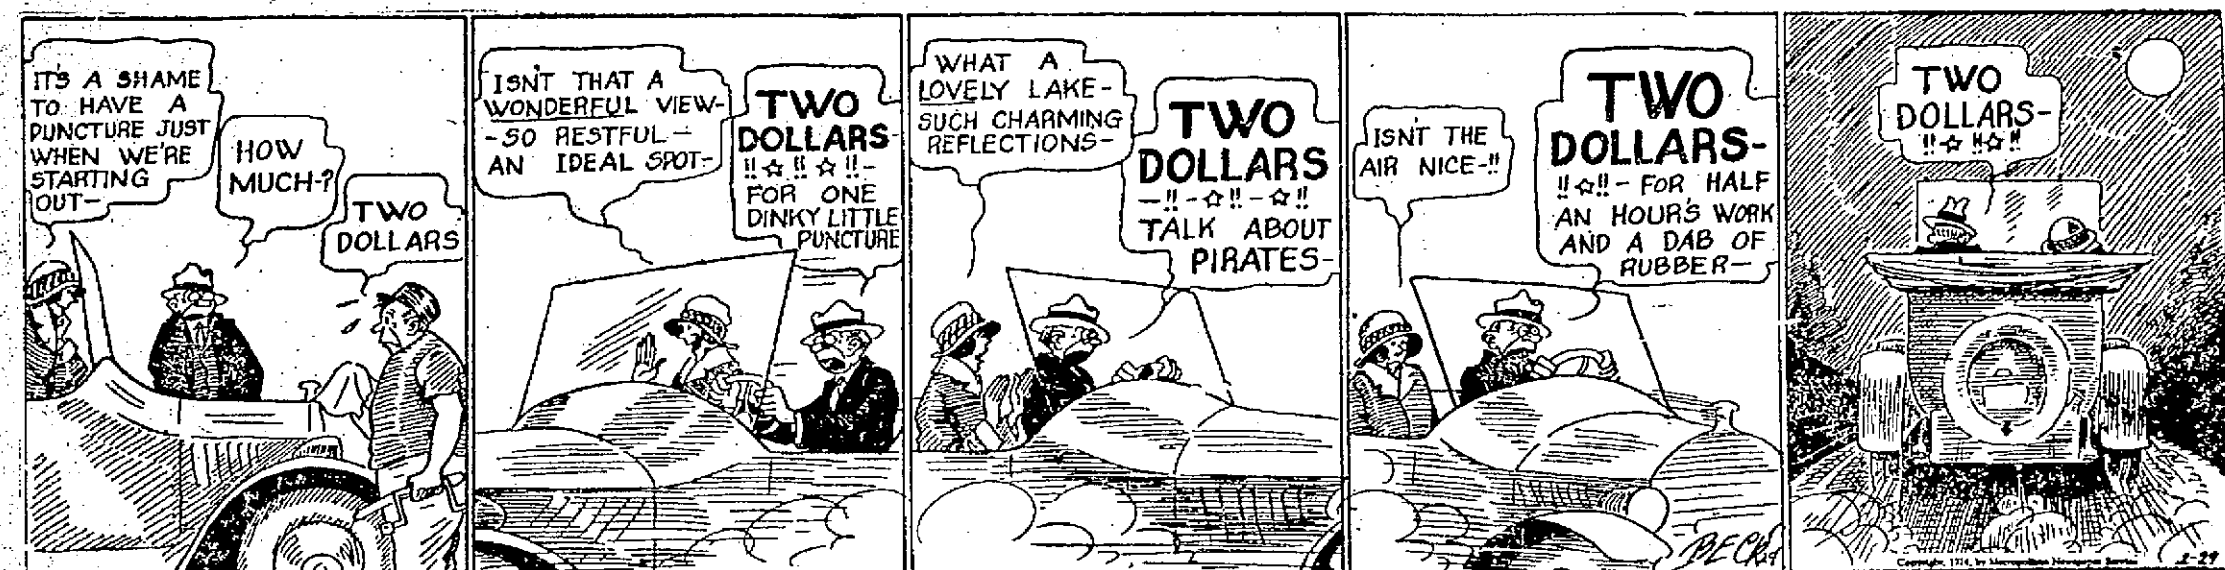

"No, sir, it was not," laughed the interviewer. "Wasn't your letter published later?"

Wills and Dempsey May Meet in Cumberland

CUMBERLAND, R. I., Feb. 29.—The town council of Cumberland voted to grant a license to the Rhode Island department, veterans of foreign wars, for a bout between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion and Harry Wills, negro challenger, to be held here July 4 or July 12. Attached to the resolution was the proviso that the promoters pay a fee of $10,000 to the town within ten days.

Harry W. Dyer, representing the veterans, and John J. Griffin, who announced himself as the representative of the Rhode Island, New York, boxing promoter, appeared before the council to present the petition for a license.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, today denied all knowledge of a proposed heavyweight bout in July between Jack Dempsey, world's champion and Harry Wills, negro challenger, a license for which was tentatively granted by the town council of Cumberland, in which place the fight's promoters said it would be held.

ENTRIES INCREASED
NEW YORK, February 29.—Entries for 22 fixtures of the Spring-Summer meeting at Aqueduct, total 1,947, as against 1,000 last year.

Great interest was shown in the Brooklyn Handicap for three-year-olds and upward, and the Dwyer Stakes for three-year-olds, both high lights on the Aqueduct program. Zev, in Manhattan, and Dwyer, in the latter, St. James and Dwyer are a few of the better-known entries in these two events.

BIG DEMAND FOR TICKETS TO NEXT BOXING MATCH

Seats for the Monday night boxing show at Brushhart's hall started selling with a bang when placed on sale at the Smoke House last night. The new arrangement of the seats seemed to meet with the instant approval of the fans, and indications are that the show will draw a capacity house.

If it is class and real go-to-it scuffling that the "bugs" crave, it certainly looks as if matchmaker Eastman has gone the limit to give them just such a menu.

Johnson May Retire

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 29.—Reports which have been current during the winter that Walter Johnson star pitcher of the Washington club, contemplates retiring from the major leagues after this season were confirmed by the veteran strike-out king at Hot Springs today, according to advices received by the Cleveland Plain Dealer from its staff correspondent today.

His retirement hinges, according to the story, on whether Johnson is able to purchase a Pacific Coast league club, for which he is negotiating. If he is successful in landing it, Johnson will manage it and take his turn on the mound.

Johnson is starting his 18th year with Washington, during which time he set a record at second. He also is regarded as one of the speediest pitchers who ever broke into the game.

Seven Yanks To Leave For Orleans

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Seven players of the New York Yankees accompanied by Mark Roth, scout, secretary, and Paul Krichell, social secretary, will leave for New Orleans tomorrow to begin training. The players will arrive in the Crescent City Sunday morning and report for work on Monday.

Every signed member of the Yankees has been instructed by Secretary Ed. Barrow to report at New Orleans Monday. Manager Miller Huggins, who is spending a few days at his home in Cincinnati, will leave for the city tomorrow.

Players Enjoying Hikes To Get in Good Trim

CLEVELAND, February 29.—Different makes of preliminary conditioning employed by members of the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, Washington and Cleveland baseball clubs at Hot Springs, Ark., are described in news dispatches received here today.

Mountain hikes figure principally in the training of all of the players, with the exception of the Yankees, but different systems are used. The Yankees have done scarcely any hiking except on the golf links, their training being confined almost entirely to the Scotch game and the baths.

The Indians, according to the advices, are the only players with a set routine. They start out at about the same time each morning for a hike from two to five miles up and down the mountains, after which they get their baths and rubdowns.

The Red Sox, only a few of whom remain at the Springs, did a lot of hiking. They mixed a workout at Whittington Park on good days with a stiff mountain climb.

While the Nationals have been regular in their mountain hikes, they have not been as strenuous as those of the Indians. They take baseballs along and toss them easily as they walk up and down the mountains, thus strengthening their legs and loosening their arm muscles simultaneously.

The Indians will get their first chance at tossing the ball today. No batting or hunting will be indulged in until Manager Tris Speaker arrives, probably Monday.

Berlenbach and Stone Are Winners

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Ad Stone, Philadelphia's "Fighting Marine" and Paul Berlenbach, Gotham's knockout king, two of the ring's most promising title aspirants, have advanced another notch on the flis ladder.

Both lugging up knockout victories last night at Madison Square Garden, Stone stopped Dave McGill, gamer of the sixth round, and Berlenbach stopped from a left up percent and "took ten."

Bonds Move to Higher Ground

NEW YORK, N. Y., February 22.—Indications that the House of Representatives might accept a compromise bill, rejecting the Governor's stimulated activity in bonds which moved generally higher in today's early dealings. Buying of speculative issues was distributed over a wide list, low priced railroad mortgages in particular benefitting by the movement.

Grow Haven and Frisco issues were strong, and Norfolk Western some, veritable 6's and Chicago and Alton 3½'s touched new high levels before reacting fractionally. Reflecting the apparent improvement in the Virginia-Carolina situation, the company's bonds continued to rally, all issues advancing more than three points in the early trading before settling back with gains of about a point. Austrian 7's advanced ¾ to a new high price for the year above 88.

Curb Market Shows Better Tone

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The curb market today showed a disposition to break away from the influence of those stocks showed a better tone with a number making substantial gains. Leading Standard Oil issues were prominent in this display of moderate strength. Vacuum Oil featuring with an advance of about two Penn Mex Incl advanced 3 points in the early trading but lost part of this gain on a reaction in the afternoon. A number of independent oil stocks were active and strong, Lazo being in special demand. New Mexico Land continued its upward movement on heavy trading and the movement here based on the expected placing of contracts for improvements on its property on a large scale.

United in Goodyear Tire. S. S. Kresge which has been active for some time, showed a reactionary tendency and yielded about one point. There was continued demand for the radio stock the preferred making a fractional gain.

Mining stocks were generally dull. Hawthorne which was re-admitted to trading yesterday was in fair de-

Strength was shown in a number of industrials. DuPont again moving week but most interest was shown in Humble Oil, which had steadily advanced since the time and today made a further gain of over one point. point and a fractional loss was sus- copper stocks.

Girl Attacked; Left Unconscious On Porch of Her Home

DAYTON, O., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—A mysterious attack on 16-year-old Thelma Aker, last night, while she was sitting alone in the front room of her home is being investigated by the police.
 The girl was seized, bound and gagged and left lying on the front porch of her home where she was found in an unconscious condition by two men who passed the house, according to information gained by police.
 Detectives have been unable to determine whether or not the girl was drugged, but the men who, she believes, attacked her, and her description of the

TWO DEAD IN SUICIDE PACT

POTTSTOWN, PA., February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Authorities investigating the deaths of Thomas Shenton and James Warkness, night students at the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania, whose bodies with bullet holes through the chests were found yesterday in the local Y. M. C. A., expressed the belief today that the young men had entered into a suicide pact and that Warkness lost his nerve at the last minute and was shot by Shenton, who then took his own life. The police declared that the attempted suicide of Miss Edna High, a school teacher in the Pottstown public schools, had no connection with the case of the students then both.
 Coroner Huff said today that he did not consider it necessary to hold an inquest into the deaths of Warkness and Shenton. "They were two boys afraid of life," he said. "Warkness tried to get out of a suicide agreement at the last minute. Tom Shenton shot him and then killed himself. It is just a coincidence that Edna High got sick of life at the same time."

French Medics Stage Duel

CHANTILLY, France, February 29.—(By the Associated Press)—General Messing, former minister of war, presided over a duel yesterday between leading lights of the French Medical World, Professors Bernard Canou, a surgeon, and Elie Broca, a physician. As soon as the general gave the signal, the two eminent specialists fell upon each other with rare ferocity. They lunged, thrust and parried for a good half hour. Both were pretty well winded when in the seventh bout Prof. Canou was run through the sword arm and this ended the encounter.
 The quarrel was not of a scientific but of a private character.

THE COMING VACATION-TIME

It has come to pass among the free and equal of the United States that the only difference between the rich and the poor is that the rich are said to be able to enjoy a perennial vacation and the poor a two weeks' vacation. Perhaps there are rich to whom the whole year is a vacation and perhaps there are poor who have not even two weeks of each year for vacationing, but for a certainty we know that the vast majority of Americans take some sort of a vacation at least once a year.

Some years ago the vacation trip or sojourn was only for the very rich and the more extravagant individuals of the middle classes. An excursion or a trip to the seashore sufficed for the poor, not for each year but for a lifetime in many instances. The changing of all this is another evidence of the leveling of living standards in the new world. There are few things of which the rich enjoy a lot of that the poor in the United States do not enjoy at least a little of.

Influences involved include the generally increasing incomes, a determination on the part of all to enjoy the best of life, multiplication of vacation resorts, and the automobile. The automobile has persuaded many to take the first extended vacations of their lives and then helped them take it.

Vacation-seeking crowds will be on the move again soon. For multitudes it will mean automobile tours into new lands over the trails of youth, mayhap. Others will choose seashore or mountain top resorts for their annual leave of absence. Secluded cottages beside some inland lake or stream are being erected by thousands every spring. Camping-out in tents affords the real roughing-it relished by men and women who during 50 weeks of the year are the prisoners of business.

The annual vacation is making life worth living, is giving great numbers a new lease on life, is giving men and women a chance to love nature and their country and is fortifying the toiling millions against the 50 weeks of work to follow.

LACK OF FORESIGHTEDNESS

THE sins of the fathers of American cities, towns and villages were municipal near-sightedness and penury. The users of streets and public buildings are the losers.

How often it is lamented today that the persons responsible for the breadth of the streets and highways and for the capacity of the public buildings did not value foresight above bonded indebtedness and taxation. It is easier and cheaper to build for the future than for the present, but down to meet the demands of the present.

Fifty years ago, when the majority of the American communities had already been planned or long established, present traffic conditions were undreamed of. The most of our present business thoroughfares were staked off for two lines of wagon traffic, with hitching posts and watering troughs at either side. A 40-foot street was a boulevard and an extravagance not to be tolerated by the taxpayers, but to be remembered at subsequent councilmanic elections. In the same manner were public buildings erected with public funds for present needs.

There is probably no community in the United States, no matter how large or small, which is not now feeling the strangling influence of streets woefully too narrow and that has been forced, or soon will be, to enlarge or entirely rebuild one or more public buildings.

To right the traffic wrongs there have been many solutions suggested and employed. Some municipalities have expended millions in razing valuable buildings, condemning private land and slicing off business blocks to allow the widening of streets. Elevated sidewalks and roadways are being seriously contemplated in several of the larger cities. The price we pay for the blindness of our forefathers is immeasurable, but will the generations of tomorrow have the same charge to make against the community builders and planners of today?

One way to limit the influence of wicked movies would be to provide a matron to keep the children while parents see the picture.

A girl with no complexion will make up for it.

So live that you can laugh at any collector in town.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 29—Thoughts while strolling around New York: A "first night" lobby. Varied hair. Snow-white vests. Dazzling women leveled, cold and goaded. Old crooks who sell packets of gum. Young men who tap cigarettes on gold cases.

A hush. Mrs. Fiske passes by. A great actress if one could hear her. The play author nervously plucking a wisp of mustache. The critics arrive. Brown, big and bashful. Hanford, white-haired and cherubic. Nathan, spruce and serious.

Typical first nighters with "dare-you-make-me-laugh" looks. Flo and his lavender collar. Victor Herbert with his white kid gloves. More tailed coats this year. Boxes full with practitioners of the social graces. Speculators lined against the rail.

The orchestra comes into the pit. The leader tosses bows to front-row friends. Morris Gest makes his usual grand entrance. Super-sophisticated and insinuating customers. The hum of first night platitudes. Girls from boarding schools with testy expressions.

The bison waves. Late comers giggle with glee. The curtain lifts. And the claque goes to work. Scene: An African settlement. A young Englishman begins to lose his first fight with ideals. Loneliness. A native vampire. The old, old story.

The entracte. The promenade of women smokers. Buzz of gossip. The producer looks worried. Raymond Hitchcock struts abroad with his broad farcical spirit. Vincent Astor stops to chat with the doorman. There's Estelle Windwood.

The play goes on. Back stage bustles with hope and despair. Everybody from scene shifter to star in a flutter of nerves. Even the old door-keeper paces up and down with his ever present pipe.

There are glimpses of New York that reveal it as one of the kindest cities in the world. You see the stalwart traffic cop stopping the long flow of autos to escort an old woman across the street. Then a bus conductor holding his bus for a crippled man. There are other glimpses that reveal it as the meanest spirited place in the world.

In front of the Grand Central stands a blind man. On his cap is a printed sign reading: "I am blind. Have the right change." I saw a man stop before him, fumbling for a coin. He read the sign and snarled: "Why don't you say 'Please have the right change'—and he walked on without making a purchase.

One of the finest apartments in a new building on Fifty-second street is occupied by a man and his three sons. All are plasterers by trade.

A well-known New Yorker has been following a theatrical company for 10 weeks. He is in love with the star. He has a prosperous business in Wall Street but has permitted it almost to go to seed.

One of the town wanderers has discovered that there are 43 places on West Forty-fifth street where intoxicating drinks are served. Some are barbershops, a few are hair-dressing parlors, but mostly they are little innocent-looking eating places with one or two waiters and property food that no one eats displayed on racks.

SPRING IN WINTER

Between the filmy draperies That veil my frosty window pane I see the withered earth's terrain.

But in my chamber, gay with rugs And chintz and lacquer, entering A guest is greeted by the faint Elusive breath of early spring.

Behind the black and gold portieres A dryad from the woodland hies, And secrets of the birchen buds To some white shouldered fairy confides.

Green moss upholders yonder chair, And daffodils in beauty bright Unfold when under yellow shades The candle blossoms into light.

For a slender silver vase Sweet violets, anemystine blue, A lover's tender offering, Bring thoughts of shining sun and dew.

And April's spirit braves the cold And threats of coming wind and snow, To visit with me for a while By cozy fire and candle glow.

—Minnie Irving.

BY BERTON BRALEY
If you will listen now and then To other women, other men, You'll sometimes hear a thing or two That may be of some use to you.

THE trouble with the most of us, When there is something to discuss, Is that we merely try to say The things we think—and go away.

WHAT other people have to state We do not hearken to, but wait Until, not being too abrupt, We see a chance to interrupt.

THE opportunity to learn Is lost, we simply wait our turn So we can chatter and re-chatter In listening to our own voice.

His First Mah-Jongg Story

There has just come to Honolulu the story of the maid who went to the lady of the house and said she feared she would have to find another place.

"But why?" her alarmed employer asked. "Because," the maid replied, "I fear your husband is losing his mind. I found him on his hands and knees!" Show, London.

In the living room, and when I asked him what he was doing, he said he was looking for the East Wind." Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Disappointed

"Have you given George up, then?" "Oh, yes. I understood him to say he was a bookmaker, but it turned out he was only an author."—Passing Show, London.
